Proposal On China Rejected

Rep. Sol Bloom Suggested Chiang Be Invited to Report in Person

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—(AP)— President Truman today rejected a suggestion that Chiang Kai-Shek be invited to this country to present the Chinese government's plight in person.

This suggestion was advanced by Rep. Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.) who is slated to be chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee when the new Congress organizes in January.

Bloom told reporters at the White House that Mr. Truman "didn't see how Chiang could leave China at this time."

After talking it over with Mr. Truman, Bloom said, he agreed. But, he added, "what we need is real information about the Chinese situation."

Bloom's call on the president coincided with news from the State Department that the Chinese generalissimo's wife, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, is planning a visit to the United States

Purpose Not Known

When, or for what purpose, was not known here.

Bloom also said that Mr. Truman expressed hope that the situation in Palestine con be ironed out and added "he stands by the statement he made during the campaign."

"I made a suggestion that President Chiang be invited to come over," Bloom went on. "We are sending (William C.) Bullitt to bring back information. However, I think it would be a better idea to bring someone over here we could meet with on the Hill and get a better idea of the situation.

"What we need is real information of the kind that we cannot get simply by sending men into China to stay a few weeks."

Chiang has written personally to President Truman in behalf of his hard-pressed Nationalist government, battered by southward advancing Communist forces.

Pleased On Palestine Plan

On the Palestine situation, Bloom said that the real solution is to go back to the original partition plan.

He said that the Bernadotte plan would not work. This plan, he said would give the Negev to the Arabs.

Bloom said he was pleased with Mr. Truman's reaction on the palestine question and added that the president will stand by his campaign position.

The Chinese embassy said meanwhile it had been advised by the Nanking government that Madame Chiang is planning to come to the United States, but did not know when she is planning to make the trip or under whose auspices she would come here.

McDermott earlier had indicated that no official invitation had been extended to her by this government.

Near-Hopeless Search Continues

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Coast Guard and air force planes continued a near-hopeless search today for the British freighter Hopestar and her crew of 37.

The search was expected to be abandoned last night, but coast guard headquarters here said bad weather prevented a full sweep of the area where the 5,267-ton ship is believed to have gone down.

Planes from Bermuda, Halifax and Argentina, Newfoundland, today will comb the area about 600 miles east of New York, where the Hopestar radioed on Nov. 14 that she had suffered "heavy weather damage" in a howling gale.

No further word was heard from the ship, which was bound from Newcastle, England, to Philadelphia.

Calling First Draftee Group

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26—(AP)—The first group of draftees to go into the army under the selective service act of 1948, will report to Uncle Sam next Monday morning.

The group of 33, all from Kansas City, will be sworn in and will depart for Camp Chaffee, Ark., later that day. All are in the 25-year age group, the top age bracket.

The past week the Pettis County Board of Selective Service sent 23 men, born in 1925 and 1926, to Kansas City where they took the physical examination.

Miss Grace Scott, secretary to the board, reported today that of the 23 men examined only six passed. The six who passed the examinations are eligible to be selected for service under the next call for men by the armed service.

Two men from Pettis county will report for entrance into the army next Tuesday, however, the name of these men will not be announced until Monday.

Nomination Of Murray For Ninth Year

Mentioning His Name Calls For Demonstration

By Max Hall

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26—(AP)—Nomination of Philip Murray for his ninth year as head of the CIO touched off a wild demonstration at the convention's closing session today.

Jacob Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, presented Murray's name and the convention hall was immediately turned into a bedlam.

Delegates shouted, stamped, whistled and sang. They started a long serpentine march across the stage and back down to the rear of the hall. A band blared "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here." Confetti and torn paper filled the air.

There hadn't been any doubt of Murray's re-election before. The demonstration was just to put life into the record.

Ninth Year as Leader

Murray, 62 years old, silver-haired, pink-faced, now begins his ninth year as undisputed leader of the organization of 40 unions. His policies are supported by at least nine-tenths of the delegates to the convention that ends today.

During four stirring days of this convention, Murray departed from his peace-making tradition of past years. He rose up in public with a series of onslaughts against the Leftists that will certainly echo in the CIO meeting halls throughout this country and may have a considerable effect in the international labor movement.

Communists and their friends in the smaller unions of the left wing have been squelched so thoroughly that their future is shaky indeed.

The convention yesterday gave the CIO executive board almost unlimited power to take the job of organizing workers away from those leaders.

Murray Makes Statement

The action came after Murray declared he will not protect "cliques of men whose interests are promoted and propagated by the Daily Worker and the Communist party."

The convention also provided a steady income — more than $100,000 monthly — for the Southern organizing drive, and more money for national CIO activities. This was done by by a three-cents-a-month raise in the per capita tax which CIO unions pay to the CIO for each of their members.

Left wing influence remains powerful and thriving in the United Electrical Workers Union, the Longshoremen's Union, and the tiny but well knit fur workers union.

Quiet Life For King George VI

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(AP)—King George VI may have to lead a quiet life for the rest of his days, the British medical publication, Lancet, said.

Commenting on the disclosure that the King is suffering from an obstruction to the arterial circulation in the legs and that the defective blood supply to the right foot causes anxiety, Lancet said:

"Its seriousness is all too evident, and is the more impressive because, in a life of service, the King has so seldom allowed himself to be deflected from any public task whether great or small.

"Yet there is good hope that, provided the acute phase yields to rest and treatment, it will be followed by a return of health and strength; though possibly, like so many of his subjects at the same age (52), the king will have to purchase continuing health at the cost of some of his more strenuous activities."

The King met his privy council today in the royal apartments at Buckingham palace. It was a regularly scheduled meeting.

Woodland Hospital Notes

Dismissed, Mrs. Shannon Holm, Route 3, Sedalia, and Mrs. Newton Ellis, of Walker. Mrs. Ellis was taken to the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. K. L. Holdren, 500 South Quincy avenue.

Kansas University Band Boys Enjoy a Meal in Sedalia

A scene in Dan's restaurant, Second street and Ohio avenue, between 7:00 and 8:00 o'clock Thanksgiving night, when members of the Kansas University band, enroute home after participating in the ceremonies at the football game in Columbia, stopped here to eat. The restaurant had been closed all day for the holiday, but by prior arrangement opened to take care of the band boys and there were 118 in the party, after the game. Charles Towner, 521 East Eleventh street was in the group. Included on the menu were turkey and hot biscuits. That the whole meal was appreciated was shown by the boys, tired and disappointed after their university lost the game, who expressed their appreciation over and over to the restaurant owners Dan L. Jones and Dan Cuzalina.

Maritime Strikes Which Have Tied up Ships Nearly Settled

By the Associated Press

Maritime strikes which have tied up 515 ships in east and west coast ports were close to settlement today.

Terms in the 86-day CIO Longshore strike on the Pacific coast were announced last night. Earlier in the day negotiators reached accord in the 17-day strike of AFL Longshoremen in the eastern ports.

The agreements are subject to rank and file approval of 92,000 members of both unions. And four other Pacific coast unions must settle with shippers before ships sail from the western ports. But the CIO Longshoremen's terms are considered the key to ending walkouts of the other maritime unions.

Ending of the strikes would restore the jobs of thousands of rail and other workers made idle by cargo tieups, and would release some $30,000,000 of Marshall Plan goods on eastern docks.

The Queen Elizabeth, tied up in Southampton, England, since last Friday with 1,500 passengers aboard, was readied to sail for New York Sunday.

At Portland, Ore., the CIO, having told the world it doesn't like Communists, prepared today to re-elect all its officers and stage a wild demonstration for its 62-year-old president, Philip Murray.

To Divulge Pre-war Facts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France are planning to publish new facts about Spain and Russia's secret negotiations with Nazi Germany, it was disclosed today.

Details of the pre-war Hitler-Stalin deal to divide Poland will be bared for the first time in two separate 1,000-page volumes now under preparation.

Evidence of German, Italian and Russian intervention in the Spanish civil war will feature a third volume dealing with Franco's relations with Hitler from 1936 to 1939.

Diplomatic officials told a reporter the state department, in cooperation with the British and French foreign offices, plans to start publishing these three documents early next year. They will be printed in English, French and German.

Hang German War Criminals

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Fourteen German war criminals were hanged today at Landsberg prison.

The executions brought 87 the number of men executed in groups of from nine to 15 on seven consecutive Fridays for the slaying of concentration camp inmates and American prisoners of war.

An eleventh hour stay of execution was granted Richard Schulze, 50, assistant to S.S. General Ernst Kaltenbrunner. Kaltenbrunner was hanged after the original war crimes trial at Nuernberg.

The original list of men scheduled to be hanged after conviction by American war crimes contained 139 names. The cases of 48 of the 52 remaining men are being revived.

German church leaders have protested the hangings and have asked that they be stopped, but American military authorities have refused to take any such action except in cases where the judge advocate general decides there is a reasonable doubt.

The victims were James Henry Gardner, 22, Hamburg, Ia.; Joseph Creigler, 37, and his wife, 35, both of Rockport, Mo. Oren Slemp of Shenandoah, Ia., another passenger escaped.

Gardner and the Creiglers were trapped under the open-topped car.

Important Events In The World News

TOKYO, Nov. 26—(AP)—General MacArthur made an apparent effort to tighten secrecy on the impending executions of seven Japanese war lords today by ordering all news releases on the prisoners to be issued through his own public information office.

This means that the actual verification of the deaths of former Premier Hideki Tojo and six others will be issued by the General Headquarters and not by the U. S. Eighth Army, which will execute them.

CARACAS, Nov. 26—(AP)—The military junta that has taken over the government of Venezuela today suspended various constitutional guarantees, including individual security, freedom of speech and privacy of the home.

Other guarantees affected are freedom of movement, freedom to change residence, to leave and enter the country and hold public meetings.

The decree said the security of the nation requires suspension of the guarantees. The action is expected to be temporary.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 26—(AP)—Paul-Henri Spaak said tonight he has formed a new coalition cabinet to replace the one which resigned with him a week ago.

It has eight Catholic and seven Socialist ministers, Spaak holds the portfolios of Premier and Foreign Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—(AP)—Senator Murray (D-Mont.) predicted after a White House call today that the new Congress will "make some other corrections" in labor laws besides repealing the Taft-Hartley Act.

Murray did not say what these other changes might be. He told reporters he had discussed the prospective legislative program generally with Mr. Truman, but that they had not talked specifically about labor legislation.

Youth Killed While On Hunting Trip

WILLIAMSVILLE, Mo., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Donald James White, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion White, was instantly killed when a double barrel shotgun which he was carrying was accidentally discharged yesterday morning.

White was going hunting and had stopped at the home of his sister, Mrs. Willa Mae Wells, nearby. He was talking with her when the gun discharged.

Coroner Tris Marshall said an inquest will not be necessary.

Largest Ocean Liner to Sail 11 Days Late

Held in England Pending Outcome of Dockworkers Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 26.—(AP)—By the Queen Elizabeth's usual standards it will be an austere voyage when the world's largest ocean liner sails for New York next Sunday—11 days behind schedule.

But there will be no complaining from the passengers.

"It's enough for us that we'll be on our way," said one.

About 1,500 passengers have been stranded aboard the Elizabeth here since last Friday, awaiting the outcome of the American east coast dockworkers' strike.

When it was announced yesterday in New York that the strike had been settled, subject to a vote by the dock workers, the Cunard White Star lines announced the Elizabeth would sail Sunday. Her sister ship, the Queen Mary, will follow on Wednesday.

Rejoice Over News

News of the sailing touched off mass rejoicing aboard the ship.

But free spending and high spending characteristic of the Queen's routine crossings will be out for most passengers, many of whom have gone broke during their unexpected layover in Southampton.

The bulk of the 1,500 passengers now aboard, and probably of the 600 stranded passengers who will be picked up at Cherbourg, France, on the New York run, now cannot afford the more expensive shipboard pastimes.

Some first class and cabin passengers say they have only $8 or $10 left. Tourist class voyagers are even worse off. In the tourist class, virtual destitution is not uncommon.

Merit Raises To Employes

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26—(AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is giving about 5,000 lower-rated supervisory employees merit raises ranging from $2 to $5 a week, a company official said today.

In "a few cases" the increase is $35 a month.

He gave the information in response to inquiries from Texas, saying the company is "in process" of making the adjustments "in line with its policy of keeping the rates of pay of its employees adjusted to those of employees in other industries in the same localities." The amounts vary with jobs and places.

The company, which serves Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklohoma and Texas, and its organized workers are scheduled to resume wage negotiations Dec. 8 at the call of a federal conciliator.

Previous wage talks broke down when the union, Southwestern Division 20, Communication Workers of America, rejected an offer as "absurd and insulting."

Encyclopedia Britannica, whose London office sponsored the British contest, announced today that AP photographers whose prints won honors were L. C. Priest, Robert R. Rider, E. S. Worth and L. A. W. Harris. All are employed in Great Britain.

Just Lost His Head And Beat Baby Fatally

Former Mental Patient Being Held On Murder Charge

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26—(AP)—William N. Pollard signed a statement yesterday in the presence of Assistant Circuit Attorney Andrew Reis and Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell relating details of the beating which preceded the death of a 21-months old baby.

"I don't know," they quoted him. "I can only put it this way. I just lost my head with the kid crying and started to beat him."

The body was found in a hotel room dresser drawer last Saturday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nichols of Huntington, W. Va.

Pollard, 26, a former mental patient in an Ohio hospital, said he struck the baby four times with his fists in the stomach and chest. A coroner's autopsy reported the baby was the victim of a sex attack.

"Did you attack the baby?" O'Connell asked.

Denies Making Attack

"Absolutely no," Pollard replied. "I cherished that child."

Once in referring to the baby he said "Joe came first" and another time he told police the baby "called me daddy."

"I don't know, chief," Pollard said. "I can only put it this way. I just lost my head with the kid crying and started to beat him."

A charge of murder has been filed against Pollard. He was arrested Tuesday in Chicago. Authorities have said they will ask for the death penalty.

He told police that after he put the babe's body in the dresser drawer he spent the first night sleeping behind a billboard here and then went to Kansas City where he slept in a church doorway. He said he returned to St. Louis and then went to Milwaukee and Chicago.

A Problem Person

He told police he has been "more or less what they considered a problem since I was 14. I was handed everything on a silver platter. I became very spoiled and easily lost my temper when I didn't get my way."

He said in his statement he hit the baby "pretty hard" and that it "screamed all the louder."

Finally, he said, he put the child on the bed and left a bottle near him "so he could get to it if he wanted any more milk."

He related that he got into bed with the child who was "more or less whimpering. Then he seemed to quiet down. I left a call for the next morning and I thought sure the call would wake him but he seemed to be still sound asleep so I looked at him. It seemed he wasn't breathing. I listened for his heart beat and pulse and realized he was dead and got upset and panicky."

The baby's mother, who came here and took the body to Huntington, said she became acquainted with Pollard through her husband. She left the baby with Pollard while she made a hospital trip to see her husband.

This Ordinance a Little Out of Date

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., No. 25.—(AP)—Fire Chief Leo Urbanski is going to ask the city counsellor's office to draw up a new ordinance defining the duties of firemen.

The existing regulation requires the men to rise at 6 a. m. to "bed, feed and water the horses."

The department hasn't owned a horse in 26 years.

Cars Hit; One Runs In House In Knob Noster

Only Slight Hurts To Occupants Of The Vehicles

Only slight injuries resulted to occupants of two automobiles which side-swiped in Knob Noster about 9:10 o'clock Thursday night, but both vehicles were badly damaged, as well as the residence of Frank Neitzert which was struck by one of the automobiles.

Sheriff Alex Nichols, Warrensburg, reported one car a 1935 Dodge tudor sedan, going east and driven by Orva K. Fisher of Kansas City and the other a 1937 Plymouth sedan driven by Russell Fox, route 1, Warrensburg, was going west when the two automobiles collided. The accident occurred about two blocks west of the Main street and highway 50 intersection.

The car driven by Fox went about 150 feet past the spot of the sideswiping, into the Neitzert yard and struck the foundation of the house, knocking a large portion of it into the basement. The left fenders on the Dodge were torn off and the side of the car demolished while considerable damage resulted to the Plymouth.

None Seriously Hurt

Mrs. Virginia Fisher, who accompanied her husband, was badly shaken up and bruised, but her condition was not considered serious. Miss Peggy Jones and Miss Joan Helms, both of Warrensburg, received scratches and bruises, as did Fox. David Griesmer of St. Louis, riding with Fox, escaped injury while Mr. Fisher was bruised.

The Fishers were enroute to Sedalia to visit with his mother, Mrs. Rachel Fisher, 511 South Engineer avenue.

Drop Charges Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Congress apparently will drop contempt action against some 60 people who refused to say whether they are or ever were Communists.

There are three reasons:

1. The justice department has passed the word informally that it's best to lay off until its own cases against Communist party leaders are out of the way.

2. The house committees involved—labor and un-American activities—probably couldn't get their members together before the end of the year to act on contempt citations.

3. House legal experts doubt that contempt action begun in the present congress could be carried over to the new one. Their curbstone opinion is that any contempt involved was against the 80th congress, but the 81st couldn't cite anybody except for contempt against itself.

Dr. K. L. Holdren Has Fractured Bone

Dr. K. L. Holdren, 500 South Quincy avenue, leaving his office in the Ilgenfritz building Thursday night, tripped over something in the corridor of the building, fell on his left ankle and fractured the fibula bone in his leg. The corridor was unlighted, he said, and he could not see the object in the hall. He was taken to Woodland hospital.

Small Boys Brought Home Bonds And Heaps of Them

ATLANTA, Nov. 26—(AP)—Two small boys with a penchant for dragging home junk from a trash dump turned up $6,500 in savings bonds today.

But first they carefully asked the mother of one, Mrs. Roy L. Martin, if they could bring the rusty-topped glass jar in the house.

"When I saw it was bonds—heaps of them—I nearly fainted," said Mrs. Martin.

The boys, Timmie Martin, 7, and George Schroeder, 11, found the jar by a creek and amid piles of rubble dumped in the area despite a "No Dumping" sign.

Mrs. Martin said the two, warned against bringing stuff home, returned to the house and asked permission to bring the jar back. They picked it up in a coaster wagon. Mrs. Martin called detectives.

Mrs. Martin said the kids were not impressed with their find but just the fact that detectives came to the house.

Both want to be detectives "when we grow up. Then we'll find lotsa money."

The bonds, apparently stolen, were made out to an Atlanta couple. Detectives said as soon as the couple could be located, the bonds would be returned.

Defeat Move By Poland

Had Submitted Resolution to Forbid Economic Pressure by Nations

By Edward Curtis

PARIS, Nov. 26— (AP) — The United Nations Assembly defeated today a polish resolution to forbid economic pressure by one nation against another as a means of influencing domestic or foreign policy.

Poland's Dr. Oscar Lange carried the ball in the debate for the Slav bloc of nations, bitterly attacking the European Recovery Plan (ERP) as an American "economic cold war against the eastern European countries."

Lange contended the use of "economic power to influence the policies of another country is inadmissible."

The vote on the resolution was 33 to 6, with Russia and the eastern bloc alone supporting it.

Willard L. Thorp, an assistant U. S. secretary of state, opposed the proposal as an attempt to discredit the ERP by nations envious of the American assistance to European recovery.

Deny Attempt to Dictate

Lange charged that some countries cannot sell materials to some other countries for reasons of military security, demanding:

"Is the refusal to sell gramophone records and such a part of military security?"

Thorp denied there has been any American attempt to dictate other countries' export policies.

Ar A. A. Arutiunian of the Soviet Union said the United States "applied discrimination, endeavoring to use export trade as a tool of foreign policy." The Russian delegate said the United States controlled exports in "such a way as to discriminate against the eastern European countries and the U. S. S. R."

"Mr. Thorp doesn't deny that discriminatory policy, but merely attempts to justify it," Arutiunian said.

Challenge The Right

In political committee No. 2, Yugoslavia challenged the right of the assembly to recommend that the Security Council drop the Big Five veto power, or even to vote on an Argentine resolution aiming at the elimination of the veto on membership applications.

Yugoslav delegate Leo Mattes asked a vote on whether the assembly had the power to take such a vote. He was supported by France and Poland. Col. W. R. Hodgson of Australia said it was the first time the right of the assembly to vote on a resolution had been challenged.

The Polish proposal recommended that all members "eschew the use of economic discrimination designed to apply sanctions to other countries or to influence their domestic or foreign policy" it was offered first in the economic committe, but was not voted on. Poland then took it to the plenary session.

No American Dictation

Thorp said the United States would not supply materials to build up military potentials of countries "which have failed to cooperate in international efforts to restore confidence in peace and security."

The American delegate added that some countries "more or less voluntarily decided not to join" in the ERP. These countries, he said, complain that "they cannot enjoy some of the assistance from the United States (called 'enslavement' in the new terminology) which they simultaneously attack and envy.

"There is no American dictation to the export policies of western European countries," Thorp said.

Ceiling on Federal Payroll

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Only 1,987,704 people can be on the federal payroll during the first three months next year.

Budget Director James E. Webb fixed that ceiling yesterday in ordering a cutback of 53,829 from the 2,041,533 employment total permitted the last quarter of the year.

The job ceiling applies only to workers in the executive branch of the government on duty in this country. Webb pointed out that the actual employment usually runs well below the maximum ceiling.

Most of the reduction will be made in the postoffice department, which was told to lower its worker ceiling by 40,286. This, however, is a seasonal change, since the department was allowed to put on more workers for the usual Christmas rush.

Other agencies getting their ceilings lowered are the interior department, down 6,669; agriculture, 6,334; and war assets administration, 4,003.

However, 17 other agencies were allowed increase totaling 5,785. They included the Veterans Administration, up 3,963, and commerce department, 1,004.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—No. 1 upshot of the hour-long conference between resident Truman and Secretary of State Marshall was that Marshall agreed to remain in the cabinet for an "indefinite period" after January 20.

Marshall tactfully reminded his chief he hadn't had a vacation in years, except for a few days that he and Mrs. Marshall spent together in Honolulu following his mission to China in 1947. He said he needed a rest badly.

However, the man who vetoed Truman's proposed Vinson mission to Moscow and who has thwarted Truman's ideas on Palestine said that he considered it his duty to stay on the job "as long as you need me."

He added that he hoped this would not mean serving the full four years of Truman's term of office. The president quickly responded that this wouldn't be necessary.

"But I can't spare you now," Truman said, in effect.

"With the international situation as it is," the president added, in effect, "I can't take a chance on putting someone else in your place until we begin to see daylight in Europe. Otherwise, I would not impose on you."

Whenever the clouds over Berlin start to clear and our economic-aid program has western Europe safely out of the woods, Truman said, Marshall would be free to step out with a presidential blessing.

Whether this means six months, a year, or longer, neither ventured to guess.

Ku Klux Klan

Down in Macon, Georgia, a group of American Legionnaires and church leaders are trying to head off a huge Ku Klux Klan demonstration scheduled for December 10.

The klan has engaged the city auditorium for that date and Grand Dragon Green, at secret meetings in Atlanta, has boasted that the Macon cross-burning would be one of the biggest in klan history — bigger than the gathering on Stone Mountain.

However, many Macon citizens, opposing the klan, have introduced an ordinance before the city council forbidding men to hide their faces behind masks when meeting publicly. This would force the klan either to abandon their karnival in the auditorium, or to meet unmasked.

The big question is: Will the city council be pressured by klan influences not to pass the ordinance? A lot of people will be watching the decision.

Unity Dinner

Reverend Dan Poling, editor of the Christian Herold and father of one of the four chaplains who gave up their life-belts on a sinking war transport so GI's might live, has just written an editorial about the importance of national unity.

"Why not," asks Dr. Poling, who has done more for unity than most men I know, "hold an all-American dinner honoring the President of the United States on the night of the inauguration? Let's make it a unanimous vote for all the world to see, hear, and understand, a vote for world security and peace.

"Perhaps no other people of the world would or could stage such a demonstration, but an Americans-all dinner on this next inauguration night would be a master stroke to help bind free peoples and all who would be free into a dynamic unity.

"I suggest the following for a national committee on arrangements with the only living former president as chairman and including all living former presidential candidates and the widows of our former presidents: Herbert Hoover, chairman; Herbert H. Lehman, treasurer; Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, John W. Davis,, James M. Cox, Alfred M. Landon, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Calvin D. Coolidge and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

"But recognizing the fact that an idea such as this can die before it is fully born, why not you and I make it come alive in our own homes and organizations? Here is a time for a man to practice what he preaches and having talked it over with my associates at Christian Herald magazine, we shall have our Americans-all dinner on January 20, 1949. Representing in our organization every faith, every color and every racial strain, we qualify for the occasion! We shall come together and honor our president.

"And we shall do something more. In the spirit of the occasion we shall bring a gift for the 230 million neglected and suffering children of the world. To date the United States has miserably failed to answer the United Nations' appeal for these children. We secured only six million dollars of our sixty million quota, while Canada with one-eighteenth of our national income raised ten million dollars.

"On January 20th next our menu will be simple, but we shall go clear out in honoring President Truman as we make our appeal for the children's fund of the United Nations."

Note — Nothing could be a more effective sock-in-the-jaw for Moscow than newsreels of American business, labor leaders, farmers and just ordinary folks sitting down — united — behind the President of the United States.

Florida's Sunshine Senator

Senator Claude Pepper of Florida is worse than a Californian when it comes to getting in a plug for his state's climate. Lunching with President Truman at Key West last week, Pepper remarked to the president:

"This Florida sunshine has certainly made you look like the champ you are, Mr. President. A lot of your friends envy you the vigor which makes you get up up so early in the morning.

"This climate," replied the president, "is so languorous that it makes me stay in bed until 7 a. m."

"Any climate that is so salubrious as to make the president stay in bed until 7 o'clock," countered the senator from Florida, "certainly can't be beat."

From the Cold Water Front

Air Force strategists have estimated that in case we do clash with Russia, Britain's bomber bases would be nonusable within twenty days. Russian buzz bombs and bombers would smash them up. . . . The U. S. navy is growing more and more alarmed over Russia's expanding submarine fleet. In case of war, navy strategists fear the navy could not keep the sea lanes open to American shipping. . . . After the war, Russia took over Germany's submarine sheds, plus latest U-boat inventions; now has 300 submarines — six times as many as Hitler had when he declared war. . . . This is why the U. S. navy is specializing on light airplane carriers and destroyers to watch for enemy U-boats in the World War III — if it comes.

'Flying Speck' Takes to the Air

Lying prone, handling the controls through holes in the fuselage, test pilot William Bouck proves airworthiness of the Wee Bee, called the world's smallest plane. Demonstrated at El Cajon, Calif., the "flying speck" weighs only 170 pounds, has a 15-foot wingspan. Its 18½-h.p. engine takes it 90 miles on its limit of two gallons of gas.

Fatal Accident Is Held Unavoidable

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 26—(AP)—Dr. Dawson W. Derfelt, Jasper county coroner, following an investigation, held Mrs. Olive B. Balay, 48, wife of a Joplin grocer, who died today beneath the wheels of a truck, met death by unavoidable accident.

Dr. Derfelt's version was that Mrs. Balay slipped and fell under the wheels of the truck on U. S. highway 66 five miles west of Joplin after parking her car on the road shoulder and walking across the highway ahead of the truck for some unexplained reason. He said no inquest would be held. The truck, driven by Otis Brixey of Joplin, ran over Mrs. Balay's head and chest, crushing her.

NEW YORK — The most formidable rival this season of the colored evening gown is the white dress which pulls eyes to its blinding splendor like a shaft of light.

If the white evening gown does not wow the stag line at winter resorts and at holiday dances, designers won't be at fault. Almost every New York collection offers dream dresses designed to turn even the plainest Jane into the belle of the ball.

White gowns created for Cinderella's lease on after dark enchantment include brocades, failles, taffetas, slipper satins and chiffons. These fabrics of spectacular whiteness lend themselves to the silhouette which has a sweeping skirt, a snug waist, a provocative decolletage. Among the silken sheers which every gal dreams of herself as wearing once in her life is a gown of white chiffon of Norman Norell's design. Typifying the fashions of the times which bow to Directoire influence, this gown has a billowing skirt, an Empire bodice accented by a tightly waist wrapping cummerbund.

Resort-going evening dresses of net, organdy and other crisp cottons are rivaled in pristine splendor only by wedding gowns. The breath catchers among these are made of the most exquisite imported organdies ever unrolled from a bolt. Frequently the dazzling white organdy is dappled like shadows that play on a screen, with motifs of fabulous embroidery. One gown of Swiss organdy, for example, which is embroidered with shadowy green ferns and yellow butterflies, has an extravagantly full skirt, a draped apron and a shoulderette —a new designing conceit of Cecil Chapman's which covers Cinderella's arms like removable sleeves.

D., president Cancer Commission Ellis Fischel Hospital, on "Ellis Fischel Cancer Hospital;" Edwin C. Ernst, M. D., on "The Program of the Missouri State Medical Association; Robert E. Lee Hill, State Campaign chairman, "The 1949 Campaign."

Friday evening the dinner meeting was held at the Missouri Hotel presided over by Mrs. Fred A. Thompson. Speakers were Mrs. H. V. Milligan, National Commander Field Army, American Cancer Society, New York City, and Thomas F. Nealon, M. D., Assistant Service Director, American Cancer Society, Inc., New York. "The Service Program of the American Cancer Society."

Round Table

Saturday morning the meeting opened with a breakfast Round Table at the Missouri hotel and the morning session was of discussions.

Dr. Thurman B. Rice, vice president, director of Education of Indianapolis, Ind., gave the principal address of the afternoon on "Overcome the Fear of Cancer With Knowledge." Fear causes people to run. Me must face facts and make the best of the knowledge we have."

Mrs. George Fichter, Pettis County Commander of the Missouri Division of the American Cancer Society, attended the meeting and from her may be obtained a copy of the cancer danger signals. Mrs. Fichter stated that ignorance, fear or false modesty should not keep people from seeking prompt medical advice if cancer symptoms appear.

At Camp Chaffee

Before entering the army, Recruit Ackerman was employed by the Scott Service Station as an attendant.

He is now assigned to Co. A, 46th Armored Inf. Battalion.

Warden, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Dewey Warden of 1222 South Conway avenue, Marshall, are serving aboard the aircraft carrier USS Boxer, which has participated in the Pacific fleet exercises held off the west coast.

The three week operation included units of the Sixth army and of the Fourth Air Force. A main objective of the exercises was to demonstrate what personnel in the Fleet could do with equipment and procedures available and to coordinate the three armed forces in a defensive, aggressive team.

Circuit Judge of Monett, Mo. Enters Pleas of Innocence

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26—(AP)—Circuit Judge Emory E. Smith of Monett, Mo., today entered a plea of innocent to charges of making false and fraudulent federal income tax returns.

Smith, judge of the 24th Judicial Circuit in southwest Missouri since 1928, appeared in person to enter the plea. With him were Justin Ruark, Neosho, Mo., and James Sater, Monett, Mo.

Federal Judge Albert A. Ridge set the case for trial January 10 at Joplin.

At the same time Ruark filed a bill of particulars requesting more information from the prosecution.

Smith's arraignment was held here since the defendant had filed a waiver of venue to accomodate the court. Ordinarily the arraignment would have been held at Joplin.

Indicted In September

The 57-year-old southwest Missouri jurist was indicted by a federal grand jury here last September 17. He was alleged in the six-count indictment to owe $7,895.42 in federal income taxes for the years 1942 through 1947, but through fraudulent and false returns paid only $2,333.52.

Of $21,674.85 in allegedly concealed income, the indictment said $8,681.80 consisted of "kickbacks" of fees paid his former court reporter, Mrs. Virginia Sullinger, of Springfield.

Mrs. Sullinger filed suit against the judge last February alleging the jurist required her to "kickback" part of her salary and expenses for a period of six years. She served as court reporter from October 1, 1941 to September 1, 1947.

The prisoners, awaiting transfer to state prisons, fled from the jail shortly after 7 p. m. after they and about 1,000 other prisoners had been sent to their cells.

OBITUARIES

Dr. F. R. Morley

Dr. Frank R. Morley, 1520 West Broadway, for many years a practicing physician in Sedalia, died at his home at 8:00 o'clock Thursday morning. Although he had been in ill health for the past several years he was better until the last two weeks, but his death came unexpectedly. October 22, 1938, following a trip to the east coast Dr. Morley had an attack of coronary thrombosis but was able to be up until October 31, 1938, after which he was bedfast for several months. Since that date he has had many bad attacks and has been unable to practice his profession.

Dr. Morley was born in Oskaloosa, Kas., on January 26, 1878, the son of Henry and Caroline Rouse Morley. He was graduated from the Emporia college at Emporia, Kas., and in 1901 was graduated from the University Medical college in Kansas City, Mo. He served his internship at Ensworth hospital in St. Joseph and came to Sedalia in 1904. On September 21, 1909, Dr. Morley was married in Sedalia to Miss Linnie Camp, who survives him.

He was originally a member of the Presbyterian church but joined the Southern Methodist church when he was married.

In maternity cases Dr. Morley had an unusual record, having lost only one mother in his entire career as a physician. He was remembered always by the children who were his patients because he never failed to draw a picture for each little sick child he visited.

Dr. Morley was a great lover of flowers and trees and enjoyed working in his garden where he grew both flowers and vegetables. In the past few weeks he had planted many bulbs for a spring garden of color.

Surviving besides his wife are two brothers, Rev. G. Raymond Morley of Denver, Colo., and Dr. Fred H. Morley of Roxina, Ill., both of whom are coming to Sedalia.

CROP Group Changes Plan; Cash Donation

Scarcity of Corn Makes it Inadvisable To Send it Overseas

The Pettis County Committee in charge of the Christian Rural Overseas Program has announced that due to conditions which have recently come to light there will be a change in the plans to ship corn out of Pettis county for the C. R. O. P. Arrangements to spot cars at various points in the county have been cancelled. Contributions of corn will be turned into cash. This has been done in order to meet the heavy demand for corn by feeders and dairymen in the county.

Roy Copeland, county extension agent stated that Pettis county does not normally raise enough corn to meet the local demand and that although the corn crop is the largest in the history of Pettis county it is not expected to meet the demand.

According to one of the Pettis county elevator men it would be unwise to ship out corn now and ship in corn later and many farmers had expressed similar views.

Better To Send Cash

The committee has decided that since there are places where a real surplus exists it would oe better to send cash to headquarters and let those in charge buy to the best advantage. Incidentally this plan will eliminate freight charges from Pettis county to points of shipment.

The new program is as follows: 1, individual farmers who have a surplus of corn and who wish to donate corn rather than cash may deliver the corn to the elevator and receive a credit slip. The elevator will remit the cash to the county treasurer or one of the assistant treasurers; 2, Farmers and others who wish to pay cash may pay the solicitors or one of the treasurers if more convenient. The county treasurer for C R. O. P. is L. C. Carter, Sedalia Bank and Trust company. Assistants are Ernest Knox, Smithton; Carl Sims, Green Ridge; Floyd Ripley, LaMonte; Hattie Skillman, Houstonia.

In the Christian Rural Overseas Program Sedalia is considered as rural and will be solicited for contributions.

It is the hope of the committee in charge that all contributions will be in by December 15.

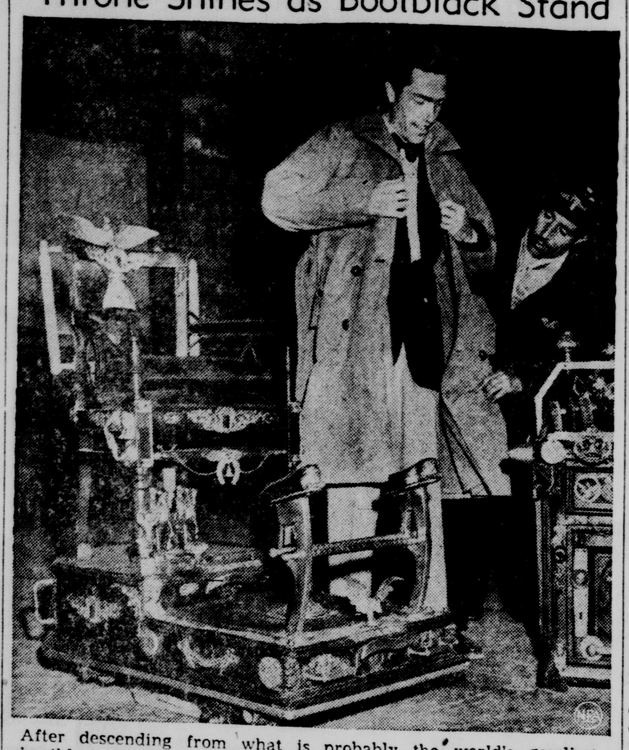
Throne Shines as Bootblack Stand



After descending from what is probably the world's gaudiest bootblack stand, a customer is helped on with his coat by Genaro Esposito, enterprising Neapolitan bootblack. The stand is a throne, apparently "liberated" by Esposito, that once stood in the royal palace of Naples. Police wink at his unorthodox use of the ornate relic and even overlook his overcharging. Hal Boyle's Column

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — (AP) — The vanishing American today is the Indian on the old-fashioned nickel.

He is losing face faster than Chiang Kai Shek. No wonder he is looking west toward the sunset. He has had his day. He and the buffalo are going down together.

For the nickel is about as useful to the average man now as a golf ball is to a hen. Time was when the nickel delighted the childish heart. Give one to a kid today, and the little innocent is likely to inquire:

"What's it for?"

And it is a hard question an answer. The nickel, like the old grey mare, ain't what she used to be.

An Inflation Product

The coin originally was strictly an inflation product. Now it's a victim of inflation.

It was first minted in 1866 in the high price times following the Civil War. Before that the people had small change with half cents, large cents, pennies, bronze two cents, nickel three cents, and silver three-cent and half-dime pieces.

The new five-cent nickel, which was actually only 5 per cent nickel and 75 per cent copper, quickly rivaled even the Indian head penny in popularity. It quickly drove the two-cent, three-cent and half-dime coins out of circulation.

It had a mighty reign. For two generations of Americans it was a basic coin, although by statue it was legal tender only in the payment of debts of twenty-five cents or less.

Helped Build Fortunes

It helped build fortunes for the Woolworths, the Dukes and many another clan.

What couldn't a man do with a nickel in the good old days? He could buy his wife a pair of earmuffs or a hair ribbon. He could belly up to a bar and ket a stiff shot of stomach warmer or a tall glass of beer. It would finance him to a plug of chawin' terbaccy, or a small pack of coffin nails, or two of the darkest, strongest cigars this side of Cuba.

It would take him to the movies in the era of the silent flickers, when strong men fainted at the sight of pretty Pearl White, tied by villainy to the railroad tracks in the path of the speeding express train, 15 minutes late out of Hoboken.

Other Things To Buy

Yes, sir-r-r-ree. For a nickel a Sunday swell could thrill his best girl for knocking over five ducks in a row at the shooting gallery. A boy could buy a hot dog, a heaping sack of popcorn, a a whooping halfpint ice cream cone, or enough licorice to bring out the family castor oil brigade.

They though so much of this dear old coin that the worst thing you could say of a man was, "he ain't worth a plugged nickel."

And today—it won't even buy the foam on a glass of beer. The only cirgar it'll fetch is a skinny thing that looks like a cigaret with jaundice and evaporates in three strong puffs. It won't let you in to see a newsreel let alone a double feature.

In many cities you have to team it up with some pennies to ride a bus or buy a newspaper, a pack of gum, or a bottle of soft drink, junior size. And the glass bottle is so thick the soda pop looks like the fluid in a thermometer.

Clear Out of Value

No longer will a kind note from the boss and a nickel get you a ride in the subway. It takes two nickles now.

The Democrats used to holler because the Republicans put Andrew Jackson's picture on the $20 bill. They complain they were so poor they never got to see this picture of their hero. Now the Democrats are wondering if they haven't slighted the memory of Thomas Jefferson by putting his profile on a nickel.

The blame thing is plumb bent out of value. Today nobody would take the trouble of plugging a nickel.

Illness Costs Ins. Firms

LONDON, Nov. 26—(AP)— King George's illness which caused cancellation of the royal visit to Australia and New Zealand next year may cost insurance firms from a million to three million dollars.

Brokers and underwriters connected with Lloyds estimated the probable claims at 250,000 pounds ($1,000,000). The Daily Express said the claims likely would total 750,000 pounds ($3,000,000).

The policies were held by catering firms, amusement companies, flag makers and others who stood to benefit from the royal visit to Australia and New Zealand, but had to invest heavily in advance.

Off His Feet

There will be no more walking like this for awhile for King George VI, shown in London as he attended a society wedding a month ago. He has begun an indefinite rest as a result of a painful circulatory ailment of the legs. (NEA Telephoto)

Uniforms For Staff Of Gov. Forrest Smith

Honorary Colonels Announced For His Inaugural

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 26—(AP)—Gov. Elect Forrest Smith announced appointment of 179 honorary colonels to his staff Wednesday.

They include John Hendren of Jefferson City, Smith's primary campaign manager and now Democratic state chairman; David Donnelly, son of retiring Gov. Phil M. Donnelly; James A. Davis, secretary of the state CIO Council, and Reuben T. Wood, president of the State Federation of Labor.

Labor organizations campaigned vigorously for Smith.

The colonels have no formal duties except to participate in Smith's inauguration Jan. 10. Later they chip in to pay for a portrait of the governor's wife for the executive mansion.

State records do not disclose the origin of the honorary colonel custom. Their appointment stems from the governor's powers as commander-in-chief of the state's military forces.

The colonels this year will have to pay $142 each for a fancy uniform patterned after the army full dress regalia—blue with a red-lined cape and plenty of gold braid, a replica of the state seal will be on the shoulder strap.

Four years ago Governor Donnelly appointed 133 colonels but they did not wear uniforms at the war-curtailed inaugural.

Colonels once carried dress sabers—and sometimes tripped over them—but Smith said they won't have swords this time.

The list includes many Young Democrats. Among the colonels are:

John Hendren, John W. Hobbs, William Wildeboor, Jess Owens, John Guy Gibson, Ben Czarlinsky, Ralph Hammond, Henry Ells, Howard Cook, H. P. Lauf all of Jefferson City.

Ben Weir, Nevada; William B. Nowell, Jr., Columbia; Frank Harris, Jr., Columbia; W. C Ethridge University of Missouri, Columbia

Willam Tucker, Warrensburg; Dr. Harry Parker, Warrensburg.

James Todd, Moberly; Mort Levy, Moberly; Maron Hulen, Moberly; Forrest Martin, Moberly, Ed Thornburg, Moberly; R. T. Bentley, Glasgow.

George Winn, Clinton; Charles Calvert, Clinton.

Judge Roy Williams, Boonville; Hampton Tisdale, Boonville; Julian Bagby, Sedalia; John Menefee, Sedalia; Rozier Hanes, Marshall; Marion Robinson, Marshall; David Donnelly, Jefferson City; Rube Wood, Springfield; Roger Taylor, Springfield; Harry B. Carr, Springfield; Denton Smith, Springfield; William Wear, Springfield; Dr. George W. Newman, Monett.

Guss Bass, Warrensburg; Ed Houck, Warrensburg.

Kansas City -- Hilary Bush, Maurice Milligar, Floyd Jacobs, Roger Sermon, (Independence) Marcus Dirtley, Robert L. Phillips, Frank Eviston, Frank Brockus, Lyman Field, J. L. Milligan, Col. William Southern (Independence), Stanley Fike (Independence), Ray Edlund, W. W. Steele, Chapman Turner, Leo Schwartz, James P. Aylward, Elmo Hunter, Robert Caldwell, George Goldman, Clif Langsdale, Sam Gross, Lee Burns, Bryce Smith, Harry Terte, Arthur D. Lynn.

St. Louis—Tom Farrington, James J. Dwyer, Leo Lying, Al Kjoensky, William Marbury, M. G. Roberts, Richard Muckerman, Walter Wolfner, Dan Reardon, Kenneth Teasdale, Thomas Hennings, Jr., James A. Davis, James Waechter, John J. Griffin, Charles P. Orchard, Ben Comfort.

Granted Beer License

The county court issued Ray Fluty a 3.2 beer license to sell beer at the Houstonia Cafe.

The license was issued Wednesday, and will expire, May 24, 1949.

The distribution of milk requires the use of more motor vehicles than any other commodity.

Loneliness

Loneliness has been called the major social evil. In a fast-moving modern world, loneliness seems to deprive millions of their sense of personal dignity and worth. Men are lonely everywhere, but especially in big cities, where they feel insignificant and lost in the crowd.

Loneliness can be a poison to the human spirit. Some try to keep loneliness at bay living ultra-active lives that leave little or no tome for introspection. But anyone who seeks relief in this way will ultimately find his sense of loneliness accentuated rather than relieved.

Is there a cure for loneliness—a true and abiding relief? There assuredly is. It is within the reach of anyone with enough understanding and appreciation of the reality of God's solicitude for even the least of creatures.

Loneliness does not exist among those who fill their lives with the companionship of God. To such perceptive souls, the darkest hour is lit by the brightness of God's presence. In the deepest solitude, they can hear His reassuring voice. In the depths of pain or sorrow—the hours of most poignant loneliness—they can rejoice because their slightest plea for consolation and strength never fails to reach the ears of their unfailing Friend.

A piece of advice often heard during the war years was that if fear makes your knees quake, get down on them. Prayer can conquer fear. It can also conquer loneliness, which is but a form of fear. There may be times in every life when loneliness creeps over mind and spirit, but if we have faith in prayer we need never be overcome.

Loneliness may be the greatest social evil, but it is the easiest of all evils to remedy. When we feel blue or depressed, we are actually experiencing the symptoms of loneliness. We can be helped in such moments by seeking out a congenial and understanding friend. But the friend who can help us most is God, who knows and appreciates our needs best of all.

Parables of Jesus Still Have Message

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

A parable is a story told to point a moral, or to illustrate truth.

The Gospel records show how extensively and effectively it was used by Jesus as He taught the multitudes who pressed to hear His words. But the parable in such use was not unique with Jesus. It was a form widely used in the East, as in Aesop's famous "Fables," and in other Easter writings. Many parables are found in the Old Testament as well as in the New.

What is unique in the parables of Jesus is their quality, their simplicity and perfection in expressing what Jesus had to declare, and in the greatness of the truth itself.

That is a point that cannot be too strongly stressed in appreciating the greatness and power of those parables. I suppose that thousands of sermons have been preached upon such parables as those of The Prodigal Son, and The Good Samaritan, sermons that have occupied much time, and used up hundreds of words for each of the comparatively few in the original stories.

But it is doubtful whether all these sermons have added anything to the effectiveness of the simple stories as told by Jesus in making known the message of God's love, and in stressing the supremacy of humanity.

What was it that made these parables of Jesus so effective? And what is it that keeps them fresh and new today in spite of their centuries of record and their persistent repetition?

I think it is the fact that the parables of Jesus are true to life. Webster's Collegiate dictionary defines the parable as a "fictitious" story. I cannot understand why a parable should necessarily be fictitious. The Parables of The Prodigal Son and of The Good Samaritan would be no less parables if the incidents described had really happened.

If Jesus had been inventing something that couldn't have happened, the stories would have lost their force. But the stories, whether of actual occurrences or of details chosen to make plain the message, are so true to human experience. They live today with a power as real in our modern setting as in the setting of that ancient day when they were uttered.

It is this element of universality that underlies their persistent freshness. The parables are ageless in their application, as they are universal in their human outreach. At any time, anywhere in the world among any race or people, they would still have their message. That is why they are unique and why they will always be needed in a world that lags so far behind in the appropriation of their truth.

Study Hour

Jehovah's Witnesses will meet for a study in the Watch Tower subject: "Ministers at the World's End" and "What is There In It For Ministers," Dan. 12:1-3. Followed by a study of "The First Kingdom Promise" taken from the book: "The Kingdom Is At Hand." Sunday 2:00 p. m. Kingdom Hall, 721 East Third.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Sixth street and Lamine avenue.

Services Sunday 11 a. m.

Golden Text: Isaiah 59:19.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him." (James 1:12). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing." (p. 29)

Non-Perishable Pleats:

Nylon Chalks up New Achievement

(Vanity Fair)

Epsie Kinard
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — Pleated sheers that emerge crisply creased from the washtub are another achievement chalked up for nylon.

The reason for the dimensional stability of this fabric is that pleats can be heat-set into it for a permanence that takes no ironing to restore. An example of the lasting pleats that emerge from the molds is seen in the sophisticated black sheer negligee (right). Adding to its frou-frou are a pleated capelet and wrist ruffles of matching pleats.

Another nylon achievement is the transformation of tricot into glamorous gowns, such as is shown left. The frosting on this sugary sheer, seen as bandings on the skirt and as neckline detail, is nylon lace, which combines dainty charm with deceptive strength.

PTA Conducts Reading Clinic

Sunnyside Parent Teacher Association met Friday afternoon, November 19th at the school, with Mrs. George West, teacher, as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Rulf, Mrs. Elliott Schupp and Mrs. J. Finch.

A reading clinic was conducted by Mrs. Lillia Sisney of the Scott-Foresman Publishing Co. In addition to the regular PTA group, Dr. C. F. Scotten and eleven teachers from the county were in attendance.

Mrs. Sisney emphasized the relation of the home to the school. She stated to the mothers, "never send a 5 year old to school. Better be 7. You mothers want your babies at home. You are hindering your child in many ways by sending him to school at too early an age." She stated that parents should see about the children's vision, diet and general health.

Mrs. M. E. Green, District President of the PTA, gave a talk on the relation of the PTA to the school.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

Copyright by William Irish—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence courtship with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to New Orleans by boat to marry him. She is young, ravishing, blond. Within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $50,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation proves her an impostor. Durand retains Walter Downs, detective, to prove that a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat trip to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in Biloxi. He makes the acquaintance of a Colonel Worth in a hotel bar, accidentally discovers that the colonel's fiancee, Miss Castle, is the woman he knew as Julia. A ruse gets him into her empty hotel room. He hides behind a screen at her approach. She enters, sits down at a desk to write a letter. He walks over and puts his hand on her shoulder.

XXV

HER fright was the fright of guilt, and not innocence. Even before she could have known who it was. For she didn't turn to look, as the innocent of heart would have. She held her head rigidly as it was, turned the other way, neck taut with suspense. She was afraid to look. There must have been such guilt strewn behind her in her life, that anyone's sudden touch, in the stillness of the night, in the solitude of her room, she must have known could bode no good.

Her one hand dropped the pen lifelessly. Her other clawed secretively at the sheet of notepaper, sucking it up, causing it to disappear. Then dropping it, crumpled, over the desk side.

Still she didn't move; the sleek taffy-colored head held still, like something an axe was about to fall on.

Her eyes had found him in the mirror by now. It was over to the left of her, and when he looked at it himself, he could see, in the reflection of her talcum-white face, the pupils darkening the far corners of her eyes, giving her an ugly unnatural appearance, as though she had black eyeballs.

"Don't be afraid to look around, Julia," he said ironically. "It's only me. No one important. Merely me."

• • •

SUDDENLY she turned, so swiftly that the transplacement of the silken back of her head by the plaster-white cast of her face was almost like an apparition.

"You act as though you don't remember me," he said softly. "Surely you haven't forgotten me, Julia. Me of all people."

"How'd you know I was here?" she demanded granularly.

"I didn't. I was the other man who was to have met you at the restaurant party tonight."

"How'd you get in here?"

"Through the door."

She had risen now, defensively, and was trying hard to reverse the desk chair to get it between them, reedy as it was, but there was no room to allow for its insertion.

He took it from her and set it to rest with his hand.

She stroked one arm, shiveringly, all the way up to the top.

"What is it, Lou? What are your plans for me?"

His hand rose slowly to that part of his coat which covered where the gun was resting against him. Remained there a moment. Then crept around to the inside and found it, by the handle. Then drew it out, so slowly, so slowly, the bone handle, the nickeled chambers and fluted barrel seemed never to stop coming.

"I came here to kill you, Julia."

• • •

A SINGLE glance she gave it. Just enough to identify it, to see that he had the means to do it on his person. Then after that, her eyes were for his alone, never left them from then on.

She moved toward him slowly, closer step by step. Then halted as the gun touched her.

"All right, Lou," she whispered.

He withdrew the gun from between them.

She came a step closer with its removal.

"Don't hesitate, Lou," she breathed. "I'm waiting."

His heel edged backward, carrying him a hair's breadth off. He stuffed the gun into his side pocket, to be rid of it, hastily, fumblingly, careless how he did so.

And there was the answer. If she'd been a gambler, she'd won. If she'd been no gambler, she'd read his eyes right the first time.

She gave no sign. Not even of having triumphed; which is the way of the triumphant when they are clever as well. His face was bedewed with accumulated moisture, as though it were he who had taken the risk.

"Then if you won't kill me, what do you want of me?" she asked.

"To take you back to New Orleans and hand you over to the police," he said grimly. "Get yourself ready."

"If it's the money, wait—I have some here, I'll give it to you. And if it's not enough, I'll make it up—I swear I will—"

"Not for that. You were my wife, in law, and there was no crime committed, in law."

"Then for what?"

"To answer what became of Julia Russell. The real one. You're not Julia Russell and you never were. Do you pretend you are?"

She didn't answer. He thought he could detect more real fright now than at the time of the gun. Her eyes were wider, more strained, at any rate.

"To tell them what you did with her," he said. "And there's a name for that. Would you like to hear it?"

"No, no!" she protested.

"Mur—" he began.

And then her hands had found his mouth and stopped it, terrifiedly. "No, no! Lou, don't say that! I had nothing to do with it. I don't know what became of her. Only listen to me, hear me; Lou, you must listen t me!"

Ball Players Given Report

Dinner at the Old Homestead To Sedalia Chiefs

Ball players, their wives and girl friends, managers, coaches and others connected with the Sedalia Chiefs were invited to dinner at the Old Missouri Homestead, Wednesday night by Cal Rogers, last season's sponsor of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league in Sedalia.

The purpose of the dinner meeting was to present awards to the ball players and other persons affiliated with the Sedalia Chiefs.

G. O. Hawley, president of the team, was toastmaster and introduced all the ball players who made short talks, and several of the officials, responsible for making the season a great success.

Numerous Talks Given

Those who were called upon and made after dinner talks were: R. W. Bus, coach; Palmer Nichols, coach; Walter Jesse, manager, Buddy Thomas, former Chief player who is now associated with the St. Louis Browns, Kelly Scruton, sports editor, E. L. Ellsworth, who handled the P. A. system during the games, Frank Sims, score keeper; John Thomas, manager of the Junior League team in Sedalia.

Cal Rogers, sponsor of the team delivered a short talk, as did Vic Meinert, president of Ban Johnson league of Boonville.

The awards were a gold tie clasp, sponsored by the league, and a medal with a figure of a ball player given to the players by the St. Louis sport center.

Before the dinner started, E. L. Ellsworth gave the invocation, and Palmer Nichols the benediction.

Tiger Co-Captain

Billy Sid Kennon
Co-Captain Sedalia Tigers

This is Billy Sid's fourth year on the football team. As a freshman he played center and since that year he has been a tackle. He is six feet tall and weighs two hundred pounds.

Billy Sid has not missed a football game since he entered Smith-Cotton as a freshman. He is a very able leader on the field and a good student in school. Billy was on the first all conference team of the Central Missouri Conference and in all probability will be on it again this year. He was also named on one of our opponent's all-star team. He is a great offensive and defensive man. He will see action against Raytown in the Show-Me bowl at Columbia tonight.

All-Midwestern Team is Picked

CHICAGO, Nov. 26—(AP)—The 1948 all-midwestern football team picked by the Associated Press, based on recommendations of the coaches, scouts and sports writers:

Ends — Leon Hart, Notre Dame and Richard Rifenburg, Michigan.

Tackles — Leo Nomellini, Minnesota and Alvin Wistert, Michigan.

Guards — William Fischer of Notre Dame and Paul Burris, Oklahoma.

Center — Alex Sarkisian of Northwestern.

Quarterback — Pete Elliott of Michigan.

Right Half — Harry Szulborski of Purdue.

Fullback — Art Murakowski, Northwestern.

Mel Sheehan, Missouri, was named at end on the second team.

Honorable Mention included — Guard, Meisenheimer, Oklahoma A&M; center, Fuchs, Missouri; Backs, Finks, Tulsa; Grimes of Oklahoma A&M and Mitchell of Oklahoma.

Brown Defeats Ronnie Etchison

Orville Brown, Wallace, Kansas, had some trouble but not too much to retain his title of the Midwest by beating Ronnie Etchison, St. Joseph, Wednesday night. It was more or less a brawl rather than a wrestling match but it gave the fans something to howl about.

Etchison won the first fall in nine minutes and 20 seconds with the giant swing. Brown the second in 13 minutes and 16 seconds using the armlock nelson, and took the third after he slugged Etchison and caused him to fall to the floor. It took six minutes and 56 seconds.

In the semi-windup Roy Graham Dallas, Tex., whipped Gentleman Jim Dobie Montrel, Canada. Graham won the first fall in 17 minutes and seven seconds with a body slam; Dobie took the second in three minutes and seven seconds using a top body pin and Graham the third with a step-over toe hold in eight minutes and eight seconds.

Jack Harder, Kansas City, lost to Bill Sledge, Dallas, Texas, in 14 minutes and 34 seconds after Hader was disqualified for unnecessary roughness.

Billikens Defeat Kansas State 21-7

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26—(AP)—Three solid touchdowns saved face for the St. Louis University Billikens yesterday in their 21-7 victory over Kansas State. A loss would have given the worst gridiron season in the university's record book.

A recovered fumble set off the Billikens' first long touchdown drive in the opening quarter. They added two more in a five-minute period of the third quarter.

All-Missouri Valley Conference halfback Lee Alberts provided the ground gaining offensive which marked St. Louis' superiority although Kansas State led in rushing statistics.

Joe McLafferty, Southern Illinois University track star of Carbondale, at halftime won the annual two-mile Turkey day run in nine minutes, 40.1 seconds. He took the title from last year's winner, Ralph Corse of Cap Girardeau, who trailed by 18 feet in crossing the finish line.

Bowl Rumors Start After the M. U. Victory

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26—(AP)—Rumors of a New Year's day football appearance for the Missouri Tigers, who won second place in the Big Seven conference standing by beating Kansas 21-7, floated around this section today.

Coach Don Faurot, in a happy mood following his Tigers' first victory over a game Kansas team since 1945 at Columbia, Mo., yesterday, declined to talk about the possibilities of a bowl game.

Several persons close to the Missouri team, although not officially connected with the school said, however, the Tigers were in line for either a bid to the 'Gator bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., or the Cotton bowl in Dallas.

Sooners No. 1 Bowl Bait

The champion Oklahoma Sooners, Number 1 bowl bait being offered by the Big Seven, will close their regular season against tough Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater Saturday. In good conditions, the Sooners are scheduled to spend tonight in Guthrie, Oklahoma, and make the last leg of the trip early tomorrow.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers complete their campaign against Oregon State in Portland tomorrow.

Kansas State ended another dismal season yesterday in a 21-7 loss to St. Louis University at St. Louis. It was the Wildcats' 35th defeat against two victories in the last four seasons.

The Missouri victory was a sweet one for a homecoming day throng of 32,000 that set a new attendance record for the Tiger stadium.

Quarterback Bus Entsminger, playing his fourth and final season in a Missouri uniform, scored two touchdowns and engineered another for the victors in the first two periods.

Halfback Dick Braznell scored Missouri's other touchdown, late in the first quarter, from the ten-yard line.

Kansas Fails to Connect

Kansas, which had won seven games on the passing of Dick Gilman, failed to connect on a single toss against the Tigers, but picked up 199 yards rushing. Dick Bertuzzi scored for the Kansans in two tries from the two-yard line in the last quarter.

Missouri's superior manpower was the difference in the two teams. The Tigers were able to repel all but one Kansas threat as Center Bob Fuchs, ends Bob Edinger and Mel Sheehan and tackle Chester Fritz pummelled the Jayhawk line.

The Press Box Says

From the Missouri Press Box: Bob Fuchs, who played a great game at center, was elected captain of the Missouri team for next season. It was a dressing room election. . . . Forrest Griffith, Kansas fullback, made the longest run of the game. . . . for 32 yards . . Missouri came out cold to start the third quarter. Kansas, full of fire, wouldn't recognize the Tigers' 21-point halftime lead as the final word and fought back gamely.

Missouri had the ball most of the time. The Tigers ran 81 plays, Kansas 54. . . . Dick Tomlinson, Kansas guard, was a tough cookie, but Missouri mauled the light Jayhawk ends rather handily.

Mel Sheehan, Missouri end, took over the individual pass catching honors for the league with one reception for nine yards. That gave the big senior a season record of 23 catches for 346 yards, three more than Kansas' Bryan Sperry who caught a total of 21.

Playing their last regular season game were 10 Tigers and 9 Jayhawks. Missouri lost backs Loyd Brinkman, Howard Bonnet, Wilbur Volz and Entsminger and linemen Dick Scholfield, Bob Wren, Chester Fritz, Roland Oakes, Sheehan and place kicking specialist Bob Dawson.

The departing Jayhawks are Charles Moffet, Frank Pattee, Jim Stevens and Bertuzzi, backs; and linemen Ken Sperry, Bryan Sperry, Dave Schmidt, Hugh Johnson and Dick Monroe .

Dawson, a senior who was credited with less than five minutes playing time in his two football seasons, ran his point after touchdown total to 38 for the season. He missed only six, one of them blocked.

Utes Turn Down Delta Bowl Bid

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 26—(AP)—The University of Utah Redskins thumped Utah State college 41-7 yesterday to annex their second straight Skyline Six championship and then voted they would not participate in the Delta bowl.

The Utes' vote actually was against any post-season football participation.

Early Maxwell, publicity chairman for the Delta bowl at Memphis, Tenn., was present at the game and presumably would have offered the Redskins an immediate invitation to the Delta bowl had the vote been favorable.

After the game William and Mary coach Thomes Power, who scouted the Utes' game "just in case," said he was flying to Stillwater, Okla., where Oklahoma A&M plays Oklahoma U on Saturday. Both Utah and Okla. A&M have been mentioned unofficially as likely opponents for William and Mary, already selected for one Delta bowl assignment.

Hoople Stuns Experts And Himself By Picking Navy to Repulse Army

By Major Amos Barnaby Hoople
Season's Upset Champion

Egad! Gentle readers, I trust there will be no moaning at the bar now that we reach the end of the pigskin season, and I take leave of you to prepare for a busy indoor campaign.

In departing, I am confusing all the experts by predicting the most stunning upset of the year --Navy to defeat Army by a touchdown.

And that is all you will hear from this ivory tower until spring comes, the lambs gambol on the green and I will select the order of finish of the major league races.

There will be a number of bowl games, to be sure, but I intend to refrain from a public pronouncement on these post season extravaganzts.

I have my own private bowl affair about New Year's, and it usually keeps me very busy.

I suppose all of you will want to thank me for my excellent service in 1946. You needn't write, however — I'll take it for granted. So, on to the forecast for November 27:

Navy 14, Army 7.
Boston College 13, Holy Cross 6
West Virginia 20, Maryland 7
Penn State 19, Wash. State 13

• Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—(AP)—Clarence Picou, the 16-year-old apprentice rider who is burning up Maryland tracks, has nine brothers back in Texas. Two of them ride quarter horses there. . . . Ya Ya Tittle of the Baltimore Colts threw 115 forward passes and completed 68 of them between his first and second interceptions this season. . . . When the U. of Virginia retired Bill Dudley's number 35 jersey (for the second time) one Cavalier suggested: "Maybe our whole team should retire this week before we play Carolina."

One More Needed

Southern Methodist' Doak Walker, who has been called a player-coach and a one-man team, has turned legislator for the benefit of the Austin, Texas, American-Statesman. . . . Queried about football rules, Walker proposed changes to eliminate "the unfair use of knees, elbows and fists under the pretense of blocking," and to provide as much protection for the forward passer after he has thrown the ball as is given to the kicker. . . . It's all in the rule book, Doak, if the refs will enforce it. . . . And how about something to give defenses more protection against guys like Doak Walker?

Pigskin Picking (final edition)

Penn State vs Washington State —State's banner, stained by Pitt, will go to the Wash. and be cleaned a bit.

Army vs. Navy — The Cadets will croon that Two Plat-tune.

Georgia Tech vs. Georgia —We think, by heck, it's Georgia, not Tech.

Oklahoma vs. Okla. Aggies — The Sooners will roll right into some bowl.

Brown Study

Probably the hottest football argument of the nation has been raging for two seasons in the home of Earl Brown, Auburn football coach. . . . Earl, a Notre Dame graduate, naturally claims his alma mater is tops (since he can't claim Auburn is). Mrs. Brown, the former Dorothy Bernard, is a graduate of Michigan, where her brother Chuck was all-America center in 1933. . . . Somebody had better beat one of those teams so, the Browns can decide which pennant to fly over their house.

End of the Line

Don't be surprised if Vanderbilt turns up in the Orange bowl New Year's day — if nothing unpleasant happens in tomorrow's Tennessee game.

Vikings' Winning Streak Still Alive

MARSHALL, Mo., Nov. 26—(AP)—The long victory streak of little Missouri Valley College was still alive today. But the Viking football team undoubtedly wouldn't want to play the McMurry College Indians more than once a season.

Missouri Valley ran its undefeated and untied streak to 31 games by whipping McMurry of Abilene, Tex., 20-12 yesterday before 6,000. The Vikings were outrushed and outpassed but came through with a last quarter touchdown to break a 13-13 tie.

It was also the 41st consecutive victory for the Vikings under the coaching of Volney Ashford, who was absent during three war years.

During two seasons of wartime football, Missouri Valley fielded losing teams with all-Navy trainee personnel and coached by Chief Petty officers.

Valley's single wing outfit has completed its regular season with nine victories, but has a post season engagement with Evansville, Ind., college in the Refrigerator Bowl at Evansville, December 4.

It's likely, too, that Valley will play in somebody's bowl New Year's day. The Vikings made two appearances last season, beating McMurry 20-13—same score as yesterday—in the Boys' Ranch Bowl at Alilene, and Westchester (Pa.) Teachers 26-7 in the Cigar Bowl.

SPA High Wins The Mineral Water Bowl

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Nov. 26—(AP)— Excelsior Springs, Mo. high school spiked unbeaten Mexico high yesterday, 48 to 18, to take the first Mineral Water bowl game.

It was the twenty-first consecutive victory for the Excelsior Springs team which will play in the Orchid bowl at Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 3 against August Military Academy of Ft. Defiance, Virginia.

The Excelsior Springs offense was sparked by Halfback Don (Red) Cazzell scoring with four touchdowns, two in the second quarter, one in the third and one in the fourth.

Bill Gorrell, Mexico's halfback, starred for the losers, scoring two of the three touchdowns. Fullback Don Dodson got the other counter.

Labor's Aim is Greatest Political Force in the U.S.

Unions Creating Old Fashioned Ward-Style Machine on National Scale

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent

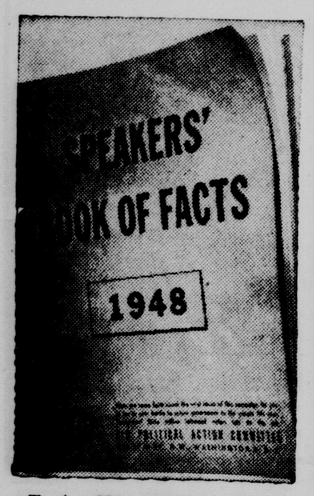
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Organized labor is building the national Tammany Hall of the near future.

Such a statement probably over simplifies what the AFL, the CIO and major independent unions are doing, and plan, to make labor unionism the greatest political force in the country. Also, it does an injustice to the unions, if you are one of those who think first of Tammany's graft and corruption, and forget the streamlined vote-getting machinery that gave Tammany the power, in its heyday, to graft and corrupt.

What the unions are doing is creating, on a nation-wide scale, a machine that will go after votes by the same methods that Tammany's Boss Murphy, Chicago's Kelly-Nash, Jersey City's Hague, Pennsylvania's Penrose, used to elect whomever they favored, crush whomever they disliked or feared.

Technically those methods are reactionary. They go back to the old-fashioned ward-heeling mechanics. They require activity 365 days of every year, instead of a long sleep followed by a few weeks of noisy pamphleteering and speech-making and star-studded radio shows. They involve helping the unemployed get jobs, putting food on the tables of the impoverished, providing advice for the bewildered and a lawyer for the chap who runs afoul of the law.

Tactics: Baby-sitting so parents could go out and vote, here practiced by union bartenders, was a method utilized by both sides in the 1948 election. Labor now is working to expand such tactics into a nation-wide revival of the old-fashioned ward-style politics.



Text: CIO Political Action Committee distributed this fat book of facts as ammunition for its '48 precinct-ward campaign.

Day after day, week after week, month after month, the old-time machine taught voters to consider the Boss as their friend, their adviser, their free employment agent, their hard-time banker. Then, when election time came, the Boss' heelers reminded the voter to get registered, shepherded him to the polls, and happily waited for the returns.

This is exactly what, on a national scale, the CIO, the AFL, and at least some of the big independents are planning now to do, in order to beat those who vote in the 81st Congress for keeping the Taft-Hartley law, to re-elect those who go along with Labor's program, to force the major parties to choose candidates acceptable to the unions.

All three groups now are engaged in polishing up the machinery they used so successfully this fall, strengthening weak spots, putting the whole business on a permanent basis.

"The emphasis," says an AFL politico, "is on precinct organizations manned by flesh and blood trades unionists. We want a political steward in every precinct, whose job it will be to get our members, their families and friends to the polls.

"We have a big job coming up in 1950 because there is no presidential election to dramatize the situation. It is in these 'off years' that we have taken our beatings in the past—as in 1946. But by 1950 we expect to have an organization that will make Labor a major force in politics."

Agreeing with this, a CIO spokesman goes on: "We start with a big advantage over the old-line political machines. They had to keep going, between elections, on patronage. But we already have a nation-wide going concern, tied together with economic self-interest, in which the unions maintain daily contact with every member, who in turn has daily contact with his family and friends.

"We (the CIO Political Action Committee) took a bad beating in 1946 because we were disorganized and had been largely asleep since 1944, and we never had tried to campaign without Franklin Roosevelt as a symbol. We learned a lot from that beating.

"So we worked up the precinct-ward organization we used in 1948. We had discovered that we couldnt win with reprints, speeches, ballyhoo—that we had to ring doorbells, make sure our members were ready, get them to the polls. We did that. We're so pleased with the results this fall, that from now on we'll build along those lines for the future."

The PAC perhaps has gone further with the Tammany type of building than the AFL's League for Political Education. Each CIO union has a PAC, with a director. Each CIO State Council has a PAC. So does each Congressional district and each City CIO Council where such exist. Each of these lower level PACs has jurisdiction in its area, but all are tied together to co-ordinate their efforts.

"We suggest to them," a spokesman for the national PAC says, "that they go into the kind of political activity the ordinary Democratic or Republican ward worker does, if he is to be successful."

It is on this level that the unions intend to build up their political machinery from now on. They are trying to do, nationally, what up to now never has been done successfully on a scale larger than city- or county-wide.

Another Chinese Appeal

For American Moral, Material Aid to Assist Government Forces

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall disclosed today that President Truman and he are still trying to decide what the United States can properly do to assist China in its present crisis.

Marshall told a crowded news conference that the American government is well aware that the situation in China—caused by the southward sweep of Chinese Communist armies—is critical. But, choosing his words slowly and deliberately, he said that it presents a difficult problem which has to be very carefully considered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo appealed to President Truman again today for American moral and material aid for the hard-pressed Chinese Nationalist government.

Koo said he was "encouraged" by his White House interview, but he declined to say on what he based his encouragement.

Mr. Truman received Koo after affairs conference of the week with Secretary of State Marshall a little earlier. The White House did not disclose any details of the Truman-Marshall talk.

Koo said of Mr. Truman:

"He's very well informed about the situation, and has shown a most sympathetic view," the ambassador said of Mr. Truman.

To Emphasize Need

He added he was seeking an audience with Marshall.

Koo said that he called on Mr. Truman "to emphasize the urgency of the need, the gravity of the situation."

Koo said he also emphasized the bearing the plight of the Chinese government has on "the general course of freedom and democracy in the world."

While President Truman was at Key West, Fla., on vacation it was disclosed that he had received a personal letter from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

It is generally understood that the Chinese leader asked for public statement of American support for the Chiang government, which is fighting desperately against advancing Communist armies. Koo in effect renewed that appeal.

Asked if the president replied to his appeal, Koo said that was up to the White House to say.

Money Spent For Arms

A State Department report, meantime, showed China had spent about $2,500,000 for arms purchases in the United States in the last two weeks.

The money came from the $125,000,000 which Congress provided for military aid. Of he total, $113,079,988 has been paid out by the treasury to the Nanking government or to the Army Department or other official agencies at the request of China.

How much of the military supplies and equipment have actually been delivered was not disclosed.

Foreign aid authorizations announced by the Economic Cooperation Administration during the day included approval for shipment of $22,000,000 worth of oil from Saudi Arabia to China.

Some officials believe the Communist sweep in China is certain to cost the United States more billions in foreign aid over the next few years whether or not grand scale aid is given to Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek.

Ministers Are Having Bad Luck

During the past several months misfortune seems to have come to several Sedalia ministers.

The first was Rev. A. W Kokendoffer, pastor emeritus of the First Christian church, who fell and fractured his hip. Then Rev. E. L. Knight, pastor of the same church became suddenly ill and died in Kansas City. A little more than two weeks ago Rev. T. W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist church, fell while attending a meeting in another town, and fractured his hip. Tuesday afternoon Rev. R. W. Leazer, former pastor of the First Baptist church, was hit by a car at the corner of Third street and Ohio avenue.

Also during the past few months Rev. H. H. Heidbreder, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, died following a lingering illness.

Sportsman Dies From Burns

DONIPHAN, Mo., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Nick Ederer, 56, prominent sportsman and member of well known Ripley county family, died today of burns suffered late yesterday.

Witnesses said Ederer had built a small fire in the back yard at his home and was trying to burn accumulated oil and grease from an automobile engine breather cap when the fire suddenly flared and caused a can of gasoline which he was holding to explode.

Doctors at the Williams hospital, where he was taken, said he suffered second degree burns virtually all over his body.

He leaves his widow and a small daughter.

File Charge Of Murder On Girl's Death

Joseph Walker Says Another Was Her Slayer

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 24—(AP)—A man who was arrested because of his wife's suspicions was accused today of killing Theresa Foster, 18, attractive Colorado university student.

An information charging Joseph Walker, 31, a metal worker, was lodged by District Attorney Hatfield Chilson with the clerk of the district court. This was done pending its official filing before District Judge Claude C. Coffin.

Walker admitted he disposed of the girl's body on the bank of a foothills stream, Chilson said, but insists another man was the killer. Walker said he gave the girl and the man a ride in his automobile.

Present developments in the case began Sunday when Mrs. Eleanor Walker, 26, told police of her suspicions about her husband. She was near collapse from hysteria and is still a patient in Community hospital.

Body Beneath Bridge

Theresa, vanished the night of Nov. 9. Two days later her half-naked body was found beneath a highway bridge south of here. She had been strangled, beaten and raped.

The metal worker, Joseph Walker, was taken into custody Sunday after his wife told police she was "suspicious" of her husband.

District Attorney Hatfield Chilson, with Sheriff Art Everson received Walker's statement.

Chilson's account of the Walker statement included these details:

Walker drank five or six beers the night of the murder, then was cruising around Boulder in his Buick coupe when Miss Foster and her companion asked for a ride and he obliged

Never Seen Either

Walker had never seen either of them before.

The girl's companion asked Walker to drive out Lee Hill road, a lover's lane near here. Then the man insisted that he be allowed to drive. Walker objected and a fight followed. The man reached in the glove compartment of the car and grabbed Walker's .45 army automatic pistol. Walker jumped out of the car and the man followed, chopping savagely at his head with the butt of the heavy gun. Miss Foster remained in the car.

"I fought for my life," the statement said. "It was a hell of a fight.

Blood All Over

He finally caught me a lick on the head. x x x

"When I woke up I was blood all over. I got up off the road and went back to the car and saw the man was gone. I saw parts of the girl's body sticking out of the trunk of my car.

"The body was half naked and there was blood all over the inside of the car x x x."

The statement quoted Walker as saying he drove aimlessly for a while and finally dropped the body over the railing of a bridge the district attorney reported.

Lions Plan For Annual Party For Children

Delegation From Jefferson City Were Guests Today

The regular meeting of the Sedalia Lions club was held Wednesday noon with President Paul Hausam presiding. The Lions activities program for the remainder of the year was brought before the club and the committee heads for the various activities made their reports. Special activities chairman Sam Highleyman called for reports from the committees responsible for the Children's Benefit dance to be held at Liberty park, November 27th. Judges, marter of ceremonies and the various other necessary committees were instructed in their duties and given an outline of the program to be followed.

Plans were also set out for the annual Christmas party for the under privileged children of Sedalia. Harold Seaberg is chairman of this committee and announced that the last meeting before Christmas would be "The annual Christmas Present Sacking meeting," and urged all the members to be present to sack the gifts for the Christmas party which will be Christmas Eve. Arrangements are to be made for entertainment, songs, decorations and the appearance of Santa Claus at the party.

Guests From Jefferson City

A delegation of Lions from the Jefferson City Lions club were in attendance and announced that on December 1st the president of Lions International would be the guest of the Jefferson City club and extended to the Sedalia club an invitation to meet with them at that date. Those in the delegation were Lions Harold B. Remley, George D. Schmenley, Fred Harris and Father Schureman.

Lion Paul Hausam had as his guest, Mr. Orville P. Loper, of Salina, Kas., a representative of the Salina Kansas Philharmonic Choir. At the close of the meeting the board voted to present the choir in Sedalia on April 22, in concert.

Capt. Russell Peck, of Sheppard Air Field base, Wichita Falls, Texas, a former Sedalia Lion, was present and made a short talk of greetings to the club from the Wichita Falls club.

Other guests present were: Raymond Rollins, and William Rich of Noel Tweet, Joe Rosenthal and Joe Fedderman, of Leo Bopp; Charles E. Depron of Lloyd Phillips, and Charles Bennett of Dr G. H. Abney.

Convention Getting Too Big

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The American Legion may hold no more "big conventions" after its 1949 national conclave in Philadelphia, says Judge Vincent A. Carroll, chairman of the organization's convention commission.

Judge Carroll, a Philadelphia jurist, told a meeting of the Legion's local council last night that the national convention has outgrown the facilities of all but three cities. He did not name the cities.

During the convention here next year, Judge Carroll said, members of the Ladies' Auxiliary will have to be housed in Atlantic City, N. J. As a result, he said, a move is under way to reduce sharply the number of delegates.

Governors to Game

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Both Gov. Phil M. Donnelly and Gov.-elect Forrest Smith plan to attend the Missouri-Kansas football game at Columbia tomorrow.

It will be the 34th time Smith has watched the Tigers and Jayhawks tangle. He is an ardent M.U. fan.

Killed In Jump From Moving Car

HANNIBAL, Mo., Nov. 24—(AP)—Mrs. Maudie Wood of Granite City, Ill., was killed today when she jumped out of a moving automobile to get to her five-year-old daughter, Sharon Sue, who had opened a car door accidentally and was swept out by the wind. The child suffered minor head injuries. The accident occurred near Palmyra, Mo.

Mrs. Wood and Sharon Sue were in the back seat of a sedan driven by Mrs. Wood's sister, Mrs. Emma J. Brown of Quincy, Ill., who said they were going about 40 miles an hour.

Pollard Waives Extradition

Admits Beating Two-Year-Old Infant At Hotel

CHICAGO, Nov. 24—(AP)—William Norris Pollard, 26, former mental patient, today waived extradition to St. Louis to face charges of murdering a two year old boy.

Pollard was arrested yesterday at Red Cross headquarters by FBI agents. They said he admitted orally beating Joseph Nichols, Jr., and stuffing his body in a drawer in the American hotel in St. Louis.

He appeared today before Chief Justice James J. McDermott in criminal court. Two St Louis detectives, Walter Feldmeier and William O'Connell, said they were leaving for St. Louis on a 4:30 p. m. (CST) train.

Pollard denied a sexual attack on the baby. A coroner's jury in St. Louis returned a verdict that the child died of internal hemorrhage caused by a sexual attack.

The FBI said Pollard told this story:

He went to the Nichols home in Huntington, W. Va., to care for the boy so Mrs. Nichols could visit her mother in Chillicothe on Armistice day.

He took the child, hitchhiking to St. Louis, arriving Nov. 16. He said he slapped the baby to keep him from crying in the hotel, but beat him when the crying continued. He left the hotel the following morning after putting a "do not disturb" sign on the room door. He was unable to account for his time between then and his arrest in Chicago.

A federal charge of unlawful flight against Pollard was dismissed by U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker today to make Pollard's immediate extradition possible.

Union Service Be This Morning

Members of the Ministers' Alliance are going to have union Thanksgiving services at Calvary Episcopal church, Broadway and Ohio avenue, at 9 o'clock this morning.

The service begins at 9:30 o'clock.

The Rev. E. W. Bartley, district superintendent for the Methodist church, will deliver the sermon.

Uniforms For Staff Of Gov. Forrest Smith

Honorary Colonels Announced For His Inaugural

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 24—(AP)—Gov. Elect Forrest Smith announced appointment of 179 honorary colonels to his staff today.

They include John Hendren of Jefferson City, Smith's primary campaign manager and now Democratic state chairman; David Donnelly, son of retiring Gov. Phil M. Donnelly; James A. Davis, secretary of the state CIO Council, and Reuben T. Wood, president of the State Federation of Labor.

Labor organizations campaigned vigorously for Smith.

The colonels have no formal duties except to participate in Smith's inauguration Jan. 10. Later they chip in to pay for a portrait of the governor's wife for the executive mansion.

State records do not disclose the origin of the honorary colonel custom. Their appointment stems from the governor's powers as commander-in-chief of the state's military forces.

The colonels this year will have to pay $142 each for a fancy uniform patterned after the army full dress regalia—blue with a red-lined cape and plenty of gold braid, a replica of the state seal will be on the shoulder strap.

Four years ago Governor Donnelly appointed 133 colonels but they did not wear uniforms at the war-curtailed inaugural.

Colonels once carried dress sabers—and sometimes tripped over them—but Smith said they won't have swords this time.

The list includes many Young Democrats. Among the colonels are:

John Hendren, John W. Hobbs, William Wildeboor, Jess Owens, John Guy Gibson, Ben Czarlinsky, Ralph Hammond, Henry Ells, Howard Cook, H. P. Lauf, all of Jefferson City.

Ben Weir, Nevada; William B. Nowell, Jr., Columbia; Frank Harris, Jr., Columbia; W. C Ethridge, University of Missouri, Columbia.

King's Illness Rap Insurance Firms

LONDON, Nov. 24—(AP)—King George's illness which caused cancellation of the royal visit to Australia and New Zealand next year may cost insurance firms from a million to three million dollars.

Brokers and underwriters connected with Lloyd estimated the probable claims at 250,000 pounds ($1,000,000). The Daily Express said the claims likely would total 750,000 pounds ($3,000,000).

The policies were held by catering firms, amusement companies, flag makers and others who stood to benefit from the royal visit to Australia and New Zealand, but had to invest heavily in advance.

Planes Back In Suchow Fight

New Offensive By Communists Is Thrown Back

NANKING, Nov. 24—(AP)—Government warplanes flew back into the battle of Suchow today, and press accounts asserted the new Communist offensive was thrown back on both the east and south.

Newspapers reported recapture of the anchor city of Suhsien, 50 miles south of Suchow

Despite this and a rash of other optimistic dispatches, many observers believed the government still was losing ground in the battle for the Suchow-Nanking nerve center of China.

(The Communist radio reported no new gains but dismissed government claims of victory "during the past few days" as "hallucinations.")

Pro-government press reports said the units which captured Suhsien had moved six miles north of Fulichi and linked with other Nationalist forces moving south from Suchow.

The official central news agency said flatly the fighting had "ended" on the east flank, where the greatest weight of the Communist push has been thrown in this newest phase of the Suchow battle."

The agency said three government columns had joined holdout forces around Nienchuang, 33 miles east of Suchow.

If true, the remnants of Gen. Huang Po-Tao's seventh army group which took the main blow and was believed all but wiped out—have escaped a Red ring at Nienchuang.

Ground troops again had some support from the Chinese air force, which was credited with checking the first Communist bid for Suchow last week.

The government is believed to have artillery superiority. The Communists reportedly have not used much artillery since the early stages of the battle. Warplanes knocked out many Communist field emplacements.

Invite Russia To Join In On Food Group

President Urges It In Solving Of Food Problems

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—President Truman invited Russia today to join the United Nations food and agriculture organization.

"I think that if we could discuss with the Russians our mutual interest in agriculture, it would not be so difficult to discuss our differences in other fields," he said.

Mr. Truman extended the invitation in an address to the fourth annual meeting of the FAO here. He said he hoped that every country, old and new, would become members of the international food group, and he made specific mention of Argentina, in addition to the Soviet Union.

"Hunger has no nationality," he said.

"Abundance should have none, either."

A principal aim of the FAO is to find ways of getting more food to millions who have never had enough.

The President said it is "most heartening" that several eastern European nations belong to FAO, and he said he hopes this will continue to be true.

He pledged that he will ask Congress to appr ve an international wheat agreement if one can be negotiated, and he expressed regret that the pact drawn up last spring was not ratified.

"And I rather believe we'll get it approved this time," the President interpolated in his prepared text.

In the same afternoon session, the United States formally proposed that a new conference convene next January 25 to draft an agreement.

The purpose of such an agreement is to divide the world market among the major wheat exporting countries, and to set up a system of maximum and minimum prices for the bread grain designed to protect both growers and consumers.

The agreement drawn up last spring would have assured the United States a market for 168,000,000 bushels of wheat a year for five years, with a guaranteed price of $1.85 a bushel for the first year.

Since then, however, one of the mightiest harvests in history has alleviated the shortage of wheat, and a buyer's—rather than a seller's—market has developed. For that reason, some U. S. agricultural officials are pessimistic of the chance of negotiating an agreement along the terms of the old one.

Mr. Truman told the delegates of the 58 member nations that the general pattern of the wheat agreement might well be followed for other commodities.

"National emotions too often rise and fall with changes in commodity prices," he said. "We are counting on the food and agriculture organization to remove some of the instability from farm production and farm prices around the world, and thus to relieve some of the causes of international friction.

"One of the ways to restore stability to the world is to produce plenty of food and see that it is distributed fairly."

Then he held the door wide open for Argentina and Russia to join the FAO.

Embargo Invoked In Strikes

Head Of Mediation Service Steps In On Dispute Of Longshoremen

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—(AP)—The head of the nation's mediation service stepped into the east coast waterfront strike today as New York City's transportation woes piled up.

The continuing deadlock in the crippling shipping walkout brought Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, rushing from Washington.

While the walkout of members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association was Ching's primary concern, the city's commercial life was being battered by—

1. A strike of AFL teamsters which has resulted in embargoes by the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads halting movement of less than carload freight over their lines to and from the city.

2. An embargo by the Railway Express agency on nearly all air and rail freight into and out of the city as a result of a "slowdown strike" by its terminal workers in protest of the discharge of 13 employes.

Thirteen Employes Discharged

Cause of the slowdown was the discharge of 13 employes whom the company accused of giving false information in job applications.

While New York was beginning to feel the effects of transportation interruptions, federal mediators called a joint session of management and labor representatives in the shipping strike.

There was no indication, however, of an early settlement in the shipping dispute.

Ship operators issued a statement through their association saying they are "unanimously resolved" not to make any further offers to the 65,000 striking dock hands. The AFL International Longshoremen's Association said the union would stand pat on 11 demands, including a wage increase.

On West Coast

On the west coast, employers denied reports that striking CIO Longshoremen had been offered and refused a 13-cent hourly wage increase to end the 83-day-old west coast shipping tieup.

Other developments in the labor field included:

The American Federation of Labor, in convention in Cincinnati, O., announced it is ready to discuss peace with the International Association of Machinists, the CIO and the United Mine Workers.

President William Green said the peace movement is in accordance with a convention resolution calling for a unified labor movement. The Machinists left the AFL in 1946. Unions which created the CIO were suspended in 1936. The miners withdrew last year.

Praised Labor Leaders

In Portland, Ore., Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas told the CIO convention that labor leaders can do a better job than conventional diplomats in defeating world-wide Communist propaganda and bridging the gap between America and Europe.

Douglas asserted conventional diplomats will "fail miserably" unless they understand the rise of the labor governments of the world and share an understanding of the labor struggle.

'Sit-In' Strike For Big Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 24—(AP)—Passengers aboard the strike-bound luxury liner Queen Elizabeth today were ordered to get off by Friday but approximately 900 said no and voted for a "sit-in" strike.

Cabin and tourist class passengers voted for the sit-in strike at separate meetings and expressed hope that 600 first class passengers would join them

The Cunard White Star line, owners of the ship, had given notice this afternoon to all 1,500 passengers that they must disembark by Friday.

The line said there seemed to be no immediate prospect of settlement of the American longshoremen's strike, which has prevented the ship from sailing.

The passengers came aboard last Friday in expectation they would sail the next day.

The notice from the line today was the signal for the protest meetings.

Spokesmen for the striking passengers stressed that many were in "precarious' financial condition.

The U. S. consul at Southhampton told the American passengers he had sent a cable to the American state department asking whether financial aid is possible for those who need it.

Police suspect smugglers used the craft, built from old beer barrels, to carry contraband between Switzerland and Italy, but have no proof. But just the same, they held the builder, 25-year-old Lorenzo Cattoti, on a charge of building a ship without Ministry of Marine permission.

Reinaugurate An Old Custom

Last May the Maplewood Better Homes Extension Club decided to inaugurate the traditional Thanksgiving services at the Community Hall.

It was then this progressive Women's Club took over the building, formerly known at the Grange Hall. Being badly in need of repair, work was started immediately in order to have it ready by Thanksgiving. The men worked at night. The building was redecorated throughout. The furnace was repaired and the kitchen and dining equipment installed in the basement.

Years ago, Thanksgiving was observed at the hall with religious services in the morning, followed by a basket dinner at noon. The same pattern will be followed this year. Bill Rissler, of that neighborhood, who is studying to be a rural minister, will conduct services at 11:00 o'clock, with the children of the Maplewood school furnishing special music under the direction of Mrs. Imogene Peoples.

Immediately following there will be an old fashioned basket dinner held in the basement. Former members of the Maplewood Better Homes Club and all families of the community are invited. All are asked to bring well filled baskets and enjoy the day with friends.

North K. C. Bows 7-20 To Tigers

Dowdy and Bob Ray Score Sedalia's Three Touchdowns

Smith-Cotton high school Tigers ended their 1948 regular football season Friday night in a blaze of glory, defeating North Kansas City by a score of 20 to 7 under the lights at Liberty Park. It gave the local aggregation eight wins and one loss for the season, and now they turn their attention to the post-season Show-Me Bowl game at Columbia, Friday night, November 26.

A Terrific Game

It was a terrific game, being played on a slippery, soggy, and muddy gridiron. The Tigers looked as good in the game as any contest they have played in this season. The gridiron was swept by a snappy breeze throughout the game, supplemented by a light rain turning to snow flurries.

The condition of the gridiron or the weather didn't seem to have any effect on the Tiger squad as they worked the ball at will and even down to the third and fourth string players, who got a taste of football in the last official game of the season.

Scoring was accomplished by line plays on the part of the Tigermen, Dowdy carrying the ball for two touchdowns and Bob Ray for the other. It was Ray who accounted for the two extra points with line plunges.

Thrilling Pass Touchdown

The actual thrill of the game in the final quarter was furnished by the visiting Hornets. With the ball on the North Kansas City 40 yard line, Richard Burkhart backed up and threw a 20 yard pass which was taken by Gene Elliott on the Sedalia 40 yard stripe. From there he shook off two Tiger tacklers and ran the remaining 40 yards for a touchdown. Elliott tossed a lateral pass to Paul Waggoner, Hornet halfback, who went around right end for the extra point.

The "Northtown" boys won the toss and elected to receive with the Tigers defending the west goal line. The ball was taken on the 15 yard line and two plays netted but five yards, and Elliott punted, the ball going out on the Hornets' 45-yard stripe. Two first downs by the Tigers put the ball on the 12-yard line. Three plays for eight yards were netted, and Dowdy on the fourth down plunged through left tackle for the score from the four yard line. A place kick went wide.

The quarter ended with the Tigers leading 6 to 0 and having obtained possession of the ball after the Hornets kicked out on the Smith-Cotton 21 yard line. A first down was completed just as the whistle blew. In the second quarter 5 first downs were made and the ball was on Sedalia's seven yard line. The Hornets held the Tigers three downs and on the fourth a penalty was suffered by the Tigers of 15 yards. Watson Kidd intercepted Shultz' pass and carried the ball from the 5 yard line to the 31. The visitors made one first down.

Block Hornet Punt

On a punt the Tiger line crashed through and blocked it and recovered on the 42 yard line. They carried the ball to the 1-foot line and after two no-gain plays the half ended, Sedalia still leading.

At the opening of the 2nd half the Hornets kicked off to the Tigers who took the ball on the 30 yard line. Four first downs put the ball on the six yard line, another play shoved it to the one-foot line. Then Ray went plunging into center for the score. He repeated the performance and made the extra point. The ball was taken on the kickoff by the Hornets on their 15 yard line and on the play gained one yard, lost five on a penalty and punted to their own 29 yard line on the next. The Tigers made one first down and the quarter ended

The final period opened up with the Tigers making another first, and on the next three plays Dowdy smashed the left side of the line and went five yards for a score. The Tigers kicked off and the Hornets took the ball on their 28 yard line.

Hornets Lone Score

The Hornets moved the ball to the 40 yard line with one first down. On the first play the Burkhart to Elliott pass took effect and the lone touchdown of the visitors was made. This ended the scoring of the two teams.

Believe It or Not, Christmas Is a Little Over a Month Off

Every year the same thing happens. Suddenly Christmas looms up big and bright before us with the time growing shorter, everybody trying to figure out what to buy, trying to find the time to buy it after they decide and then trying to find the money to pay for it after they locate it in some store. But that is the fun of Chrismas.

If the family would just make a list of the things they would like to have, it would be easier. However, one young Sedalia woman feels she is about as bad off after she read the list her husband gave her as she was before. The first thing on the list was a claw hammer. "A fine thing to hang on a Christmas tree," she said. A box of tools, some loud pajamas, a case of canned green beans—

"A case of canned green beans" gasped a girl listening to the young wife naming the things on the list. "What does he want with a case of green beans."

"Oh, he's crazy about green beans," said the wife. "He never gets enough of them."

But the little folks don't have that trouble. All they have to do is to tell Santa Claus what they want and then just wait until Christmas morning. And there were plenty of little folks doing just that Saturday in one of the local stores. There were so many youngsters crowded around Santa that the perspiration began running down his face into his flowing white beard. But then the temperature here is quite different from way up there at the North Pole.

Santa is quite a grand old fellow. He never seems to get tired of hearing what all the little boys and girls want. Some of them shy away, just a little bit afraid of the white beard, maybe. Others stand with eyes open wide and telling all of the things they want him to bring. One little fellow in his mother's arms tried to get over the idea that he wanted a train with his constant chatter of "Choo-choo--choo-choo," while his sister, just a few years old, wanted a wagon so she could pull her baby brother in it. One little boy wanted a cowboy suit and a doll house with furniture.

Various Wants

"I want a doll buggy, Santa" said one little girl. "And a toaster and a wagon—and that's all."

A little boy wanted a scooter—with two wheels, one in the back and one in front, and another little boy wanted a train—one that backs up.

A little boy in a yellowish green cap, about eight or ten years old, helped Santa keep track of his boxes of lollipops and when a tiny youngster was afraid of Santa and wouldn't take the lollipop he offered, the little boy handed him one and the youngster looked up and took it.

Before Santa stood a little girl in a blue snow suit with her brown hair cut with bangs and her twinkling eyes fastened on Santa as she told him, not only what she wanted but what her little friend wanted too. Then as she started to leave, she hesitated a minute and said: "Santa, you knew that we had moved to our new house, didn't you?"

Sedalian Invents Most Unique Mousetrap in Electric Meter

When someone invents a better mousetrap the world will beat a path to his door, so the old saying goes and it looks like that path is going to lead to the door of George A. Stohr, 510 West Sixth street, who didn't invent a better mouse trap, but discovered the most unique mouse trap of all time. Mr. Stohr is meter superintendent for the Missouri Public Service company and the mousetrap is an electric meter.

According to The Duncan Register, published by the Duncan Electric Manufacturing company, Lafayette, Ind., which carried a picture of the new mousetrap discovered in Sedalia, the operation of the trap works this way: "Leave switch door open, mouse crawls up conduit to outdoor meter socket, lies down to take a nap in warmth of overload. Tail hits blade, mouse is electrocuted, then dehydrated electrically, leaving no smell inside the house nor removal problem until meter is changed by operating company.

What a wonderful thing for housewives who get the jitters trying to put down the common mousetrap without the spring snapping, and who practically jump out of their skin when the spring does snap just as they let go. Then there would be no odor, no holding the mouse trap at arm's length with one hand and your nose with the other when you try to empty the dead mouse that attempted to nibble the cheese in the trap. Then it would be better for the mouse, too. Being electrocuted would be so much nicer than getting its head caught in a trap. Yes, even the mouse agrees that Stohr has got something there when it comes to electric meter mousetraps, the newest thing on the list of electrical household appliances.

Grades two, taught by Miss Hortense Bapple and Miss Anna Margaret Wingfield, presented a program and recitation, songs and costumes were in keeping with the Thanksgiving season. Mrs. Vivigene Handley, music teacher of the school, was piano accompanist.

Mrs. Jay Nicholson, program chairman, introduced Mrs. A. A. Studebaker, chairman of the Girl Scout camp committee, who made a short talk preceding the showing of the colored film, "Girl Scouts at Camp." She stated their purpose in showing this film is that the public might see what they are trying to do and also see something of their camp. Each year the Girl Scouts use the money given them through the Community Chest to try and improve their camp. In the last few days, a new shelter house has been completed with the idea of adding others each year so they will be ready for use when the tents they now have are past using.

Thanks For Those Who Contributed

Mrs. Studebaker also took this opportunity to thank those who had contributed money and boxes for European children to the Junior Red Cross, stating 51 boxes had been sent to St. Louis that day. Claude Boul showed the film, with Mrs. Studebaker narrating.

The devotional was given by Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, using as her theme "Family Love."

Lawrence Brown, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mr. Campbell's talk in part, follows:

Follow Custom

"Rotarians, other service clubs, organizations and religious groups are following the traditional custom of observing a time of Thanksgiving. This spirit of thankgiving was instilled in man at the very beginning of his life, when God breathed into his nostrils the breath of life. It was this spirit that caused the Psalmist to say, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless His holy name"; Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving, sing praise upon the harp unto our God and Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits. It was this spirit that caused our Pilgrim fathers to gather together that special thanksgiving in 1621. It was this spirit that caused Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, for 20 years to write governors, presidents and her editorals in magazines, insisting that a definite day of each year be set aside for THANKS-GIVING.

Many Reasons for Thanks

"Your club, conscious of this spirit of Thanks-giving, extended to me the invitation to speak to you this day as you take time out of your business and pause on a busy Monday for a period of Thanks.

It is my desire to call to your mind four definite things for which you should be thankful today. First, we are thankful for our friends. Friends of every race, color, politics, religion and station in life. Upon our streets we meet and greet—exchange greetings—shake hands—with so many people we know—and appreciate—who have been so loyal—so true—so considerate. We are indeed thankful for the making of friends. Second, we are thankful for our homes—one room—two room—bungalow — two story — or mansions—each and every one, America's greatest institution. All different but each entitled to the same rights, privileges and protection.

Grateful For Everyday Events

"Third, we are thankful for service clubs — Rotary, Lions, Optimist, Kiwanians, business men, professional men — doctors, dentists, lawyers, specialists, ministers, teachers, all working together in the finest spirit of cooperation, leadership and service and for this we have reason to be thankful.

And last — We are thankful for our churches — in Sedalia, in these United States and the world at large. Yes, churches, Jewish, Catholic and Protestant —certainly they have their differences — but more than that they possess a fine spirit of cooperation in so many fields of service. It is for this spirit of Thanksgiving that you men take time out today to eat together—to sing — to slap each other on the back — to shake hands and to sit back and listen for 20 minutes to these everyday things for which we are indeed thankful."

George Gallup To Use New 'Techniques'

He Hopes His 1948 Mistake Won't Ever be Repeated

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—(AP)—George Gallup said today he will use some "new techniques" in taking his next election poll—in hopes the 1948 mistakes won't be repeated.

The director of the American Institute of Public Opinion said the new methods call for obtaining fuller information on voters who aren't sure whether they will vote, and who aren't sure whom they will vote for.

Gallup has said his 1948 predictions which called for a Dewey victory, were thrown off largely by his failure to take into full account the influence of the "undecided" voters on the election's outcome.

Calling in Party Members

Other innovations, Gallup said, will include the calling in of one Democrat and one Republican to present their views as to the meaning of the poll findings, along with regular statistical data.

He said the new methods will provide information never before reported by polls in detail, and will also "strive to detect trends up to the close of the campaign."

Will the new system give the right answers? Gallup said there will be an opportunity to find out in state and local elections of the next two years.

Breen to Pay And Apologize

HAYWARD, Wis., Nov. 24.—(AP)—A public apology and about $300 is the price Singer Bobby Breen will pay for the 36 hours a posse spent slogging through snow-chocked forests looking for him while he relaxed at a hotel under an assumed name.

The apology—Breen's idea—was issued early today. The money — Sawyer County Dist. Atty. Winslow Davis' bill—is payable at once.

Breen spent most of yesterday explaining to Ashland and Sawyer county authorities why he didn't try a little harder to report his whereabouts after his chartered plane was forced down Sunday. The plane was piloted by Kenneth Thompson of Waukesha, who remained with Breen at a Glidden hotel while searching parties combed the wilderness on the ground and a flyer dared hazardous weather conditions to hunt by air.

Officials of the two counties said they would not bring any charges against the 21-year-old former child movie star.

Dist. Atty. Clarence Olson of Ashland county reprimanded both Breen and Thompson for their failure to notify someone they were safe after the plane landed.

Decide Jones Isn't Too Ill

NEW YORK, Nov. 24—(AP)—A federal judge has ruled that Jesse Jones is well enough to be questioned as a witness, after being told that the Texas banker recently stayed up until 2 a. m playing poker and drinking whisky.

In the ruling yesterday, Judge Samuel H. Kaufman turned down a plea that it would endanger the health of the 74-year-old former head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for him to appear as a witness in a suit.

Attorneys seeking Jones' appearance claimed that if a man's heart can stand the strain of backing a straight in a poker game with a $4,000 pot, and losing to an opponent's four fours, he can stand the strain of testifying.

Questioning of Jones was sought by attorneys for James A. Moffett, onetime federal housing administrator, in a $6,000,000 suit against the American Oil Co., Inc.

Important Events In The World News

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—The Army apparently is picking and choosing its draftees more carefully than during the war, a Selective Service official said today.

Of 44,000 men examined since early November in 43 states, he said 32,000 have been rejected according to incomplete figures from local boards.

This 70 per cent rate, roughly double the wartime rejection rate of 35.8 per cent, may be due to stricter physical standards set by Army doctors, the draft official said.

PARIS, Nov. 24—(AP)—Parliament voted its confidence in Premier Henri Queuille's middle of the road government today.

The unofficial count was 320 to 165.

The bulk of the vote against Queuille was by Communist deputies. If the vote had gone the other way, the cabinet would have resigned.

BERLIN, Nov. 24—(AP)—Communist-dominated Germans demanded today that the western powers negotiate a German peace treaty with the Russians and that all occupation armies leave within a year after it is signed.

No Extras And No Trade-ins

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—The Hudson Motor Car Co., said today that after about Jan. 1 half of its output of standard models will be offered to buyers without any extra equipment.

N. K. Van Derzee, sales manager, so advised the special House sub committee investigating automobile trade practices. Chairman Macy (R-NY) made Van Derzee's letter public.

Van Derzee wrote that the cars are to be displayed and advertised without any extras, and the company will request that dealers sell them with or without a trade-in, for cash or time payments, and not to exceed prices suggested by the company, and "with no special consideration whatsoever."

"This program applies also to all non-equipment extras such as undercoating and polishing jobs," Van Derzee wrote. "Our instructions are that absolutely nothing is to be added to these automobiles, and that no accessories or extras are to be made a consideration to any transaction."

Poor Double Trouble Was Spun Around

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24—(AP)—When they named Double Trouble, the yellow kitten, they named her right.

She went for a spin yesterday —in an automatic home washing machine.

It was only a dry run, but it was almost enough for Double Trouble.

At the Acme Dog & Cat hospital, Dr. Alfred C. Zedlitz says it's a bad case of shock.

"Her sense of balance is definitely disrupted," he explained. "But I think she should be able to go home in a few days."

Double Trouble was almost done for by her best friend — three-year-old Christopher Jordan.

Young Chris reckoned it was time for the kitten to have a bath. Into the machine went Double Trouble, on went the juice, and the washer went round and round.

About three minutes later an agonized Chris burst into his mother's kitchen.

"The cat can't come up . . . The cat can't get out of the machine!" he burbled.

Poor Double Trouble. She did not know up from down.

But Chris did.

. . . an awful spanking!" said Mrs. Jordan.

No Time Out

Ollie Clark received a record World Series check when the Cleveland Indians beat the Boston Braves, but the outfielder did not take time out with the firing of the last shot. He keeps in condition as an iron worker at Metuchen, N.J., where he is shown bending steel binders on a construction job.

Suggestions On Civil Rights

By Edwin B. Haakinson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—Two ways of handling President Truman's civil rights program were suggested today (1) compromise, and (2) a comprehensive study of racial and economic problems throughout the United States.

Both suggestions came from southern senators. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) said that a compromise of the touchy issue is "under discussions." Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) advocated the survey, which he said should be an unbiased study not limited to Negro conditions in the south.

Sparkman said he is considering introducing a resolution in the new Congress for the inquiry, framing it so a spotlight could be thrown on every section of the nation where there are racial problems. He mentioned, among others, the Puerto Ricans and Negroes in New York City, and the Mexicans in California.

Delay or not, Sparkman said, "I don't see any use in hurrying into the question."

Fulbright told a reporter he believes a fair legislative compromise can be worked out on such controversial parts of the civil rights program as anti-lynching legislation and prohibition of the poll tax.

Shoot Accused Rapist To Death

BELLAIRE, Mich., Nov. 24—(AP)—Sheriff's officers and state police tonight sought an assailant or assailants who shot an accused rapist to death early today during a 10-mile highway chase.

The victim, Gerald Lee, 25, of East Jordan, Mich., was free on bail while awaiting trial in neighboring Charlevoix county on charges of raping a 14-year-old girl.

With 22-yearold Mrs. Goldie Long beside him, Lee was driving his light panel truck when his attacker or attackers opened fire.

Lee drove at high speeds over country roads for 10 miles before he finally drove into an ambush near here.

First state police reports indicated there were four or five men in the attacking party.

Mrs. Long, a Mancelona, Mich., woman estranged from her husband, later told police that "a man in a red hat" fired the fatal shot but she could not say whether he was alone in the auto. The woman added that she did not recognize the man.

Sheriff Howard E. Tanner said he was looking into the possibility that Lee was killed in retaliation for the suspected rape of the child.

Renews Attack On 'Commies'

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 24—(AP)—The CIO convention voted 572 to 49 today for a resolution calling on all CIO unions to give "unstinting support" to the Political Action Committee decisions of the CIO.

The vote followed another attack on Communists by President Philip Murray.

Murray said bluntly that the men who spoke against the resolution did so because the Communist party's "line has changed."

Mentioning three of the speakers by name, Murray said they were uttering "violent tripe" and showing "weakness."

Murray said the three were Reid Robinson, former president of the mine, mill, and smelter workers; Ben Gold, president of the fur workers; and Joseph Selly, president of the American Communications Association.

Murray said all three supported a similar resolution on political action at the 1944 CIO convention. He demanded to know why they had changed. He replied to his own question with a discussion of Communist party strategy, and ended by saying the speakers changed because "the line has changed."

He did not say that all the speakers are card-carrying members of the Communist party. Ben Gold is an admitted Communist.

S-C Tigers Are Set For The Raytown Jays

The Smith-Cotton Tigers are really set on winning the "Show Me Bowl" football game with the Raytown Jays this Friday night to be played at the Hickman stadium, Columbia, Mo.—so much, that the team will practice this Thanksgiving morning.

Coach Dow said that his team was a long way from being in tip-top condition, since several number-one players are sick and still supporting injuries. Raytown has two advantages over Smith-Cotton—one is the team has had plenty of rest, nearly three weeks since they played their final regular season game. And too, Raytown scouts have seen the Tigers in action during past two games they've played This observation is worth plenty, and Coach Dow said he didn't know a thing about the opponents, and wouldn't know until game time, but he added that they would try to off-set these disadvantages some way.

An advantage the Tigers have over Raytown is weight The Tiger team as a whole weighs on an average of 170 pounds, whereas, Raytown will average approximately 160 pounds.

Clean Sweep In Season

Raytown won the Western Conference with nine straight victories. The Tigers won the Central Missouri Conference with a clean sweep in conference games, but lost one out of the nine games played to Independence in a non-conference tilt. The Tigers attribute their wins through running plays, and excellent punting.

A large beautiful three-foot football trophy, any high school would be proud to win will be given to the winning team, Friday night, under the sponsorship of Columbia Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Founder of 'Mother's Day' is Dead at 84 After Long Illness

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Anna M. Jarvis, the little old lady whose reverence for her dead mother led to national recognition of Mothers Day, died today after a long illness. She was 84.

Her attorney, H. S. J. Sickel, disclosed her death hours after it occurred in a quiet sanatorium in suburban West Chester.

It was on the second anniversary of her mothers death in 1907 that the Philadelphia spinster assembled a few friends at her home for a memorial service. Out of that small gathering grew Mother's Day, observed in more than 40 countries.

Fame, but not happiness trailed Miss Jarvis as she fought to keep Mother's Day free from commercialism.

Threatened to Sue

She threatened to sue New York's Governor Al Smith in 1923 over plans for a huge Mother's Day meeting and in 1931 clashed with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt over a rival Mother's Day committee.

Despite her jealous stewardship of the day she founded and had patented, Miss Jarvis fought a losing battle against the commercial forces she resented. Finally, she retired to semi-seclusion, tended flowers grown from her mother's grave and cared for her only close relative, a blind sister Elsinore, who preceded her in death.

In her latter years, blinded, ill and impoverished of her share of a $100,000 estate, she presented herself at Philadelphia general hospital and asked to be allowed to commit herself as a patient.

Friends learned of her plight within a few days and formed a committee, pledged funds for her support and transferred her to the sanatorium where she died at 1 a. m. today.

Threat of Drizzling Rain is the Only Damp Note in Columbia

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 24.—(AP)—A threat of drizzling rain provided the only dampening note today for a University of Missouri homecoming celebration which began this morning with official greetings for Jane Froman, radio and screen star, the coming home queen, and will reach its climax in tomorrow's Missouri-Kansas football game before a record-breaking crowd of more than 32,000.

Sandwiched in between those events are countless group reunions and student and alumni social events. Tonight there will be a gigantic pep rally and bon fire, with Freshmen students burning their beanies as they dance about the fire.

Following that 900 couples will dance to the music of Carmen Cavallero's dance band, and Kay Grey will be crowned Homecoming Queen.

A reunion dinner of members of the class of 1923 is also on tonight's program.

Though football is the headline attraction of the homecoming, it took a back seat in today's activities. The Missouri squad wound up pre-game preparations yesterday, and had only a blackboard session for today. The Kansas team, spending the night in Jefferson City, will not arrive until tomorrow.

Says Records Are in Error

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A prisoner serving five concurrent life sentences at the Missouri state penitentiary will appear in circuit court here Dec. 10 for a hearing on his motion to vacate the sentences.

Judge Thomas J. Seehorn of circuit court yesterday issued a writ of habeas corpus for the prisoner, Albert Green, 46, for the hearing.

Green has filed a motion to vacate the life sentences, to correct the court records which he alleges are in error, and to withdraw the pleas of guilty to which the sentences were imposed.

Truman up And Out Early

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24—(AP)—President Truman was up before dawn today and got in an 11-block walk in the capital's downtown area before breakfast.

For the second day in a row, Mr Truman left Blair House, his temporary residence at 7:00 a. m. EST. He was back twenty minutes later.

Swinging a walking stick, the president strolled briskly along. With him were three secret service men.

Several passers-by showed no sign of recognizing the chief executive. But at one corner a group of girls stared at him.

The president had walked on about a half block when there was an excited squeal from the group and shouts of "It is him. It is."
